Incunabula in Transit

People and Trade

By

Lotte Hellinga
Contents

Acknowledgements VII
List of Figures X
Abbreviations XII

Introduction 1

1 Book Auctions in the Fifteenth Century 6

2 Advertising and Selling Books in the Fifteenth Century 20

3 Nicolas Jenson, Peter Schoeffer and the Development of Printing Types 40

4 Peter Schoeffer: Publisher and Bookseller 89

5 The Mainz Catholicon 1460–1470: An Experiment in Book Production and the Book Trade 126

6 Fragments Found in Bindings: The Complexity of Evidence for the Earliest Dutch Typography 204

7 Prelates in Print 230

8 William Caxton, Colard Mansion and the Printer in Type 1 286

9 Wynkyn de Worde’s Native Land 323

10 Aesopus Moralisatus, Antwerp, 1488 in England 340

11 An Early Eighteenth-century Sale of Mainz Incunabula by the Frankfurt Dominicans 353

12 A Caxton Tract-volume from Thomas Rawlinson’s Library 361

13 Buying Incunabula in Venice and Milan: The Bibliotheca Smithiana 370
Appendices  393
Index of Books Printed before 1501  496
Index  506
Colour Illustrations  following page 520