Craft, Community and the Material Culture of Place and Politics, 19th-20th Century

Edited by Janice Helland, Beverly Lemire
and Alena Buis

ASHGATE
CONTENTS

List of Illustrations vii
Notes on Contributors xi
Acknowledgements xv

Introduction 1
Janice Helland, Beverly Lemire and Alena Buis

1 Village Craft, Rural Industry: The Politics of Modern Globalized Craft 11
Edward S. Cooke, Jr

2 Souvenir Art, Collectable Craft, Cultural Heritage: The Wendat (Huron) of Wendake, Quebec 37
Anne de Stecher

3 ‘To foster and encourage the study and practice of Māori arts and crafts’: Indigenous Material Culture, Colonial Arts and Crafts and New Zealand Museums 59
Conal McCarthy

4 Reconstructing the Old Dutch House: New Castle’s Colonial Dutch Gem and Louise Crowninshield’s Preservation Community 83
Alena Buis

5 From the Gift Shop to the Permanent Collection: Women and the Circulation of Inuit Art 105
Anne Whitelaw

6 Benevolence, Revival and ‘Fair Trade’: An Historical Perspective 125
Janice Helland
7 Negotiating the Colonial Encounter: Making Objects for Export in the Andaman Islands, 1858–1920
Claire Wintle

8 Crafting Inclusion for 'Invalid' Women: The Girls' Friendly Society Central Needlework Depot, 1899–1947
Vivienne Richmond

9 Crafting Suburbia: The Community as Craft Object
Lily Crowther

10 The Guild of All Arts in Scarborough, Ontario: Craft, Community and Memories
Alla Myzelev

Index