CHARLES-JOSEPH NATOIRE AND THE ACADÉMIE DE FRANCE IN ROME
A RE-EVALUATION

REED BENHAMOU

VOLTAIRE FOUNDATION
OXFORD

www.voltaire.ox.ac.uk
Contents

Acknowledgements xi
Abbreviations xiii
Useful names, dates and events xv
   Royal art institutions funded and supervised by the Bâtiments du roi xv
   Académie de France à Rome: directors general, directors, wars and deficits xv
   Charles-Joseph Natoire: biographical overview xvii

Introduction 1
   Note on sources 4

Part I (1700-1751) 7
1. In the bosom of the family (Natoire, 1751) 9
   My family, always difficult to satisfy and restrain (Natoire, 1752) 11
   My sister Jeanne (Natoire, 1751) 12
   My unlucky brother (Natoire, 1753) 16
   A brother who gives me grief (Natoire, 1762) 18
   My brother the abbé, who is very helpful to me (Natoire, 1772) 20

2. His gift for painting (d'Antin, 1723) 23
   Shows great promise, draws well (Vleughels, 1724) 23
   The excellent men who fill the Academy (Académie de peinture et de sculpture, 1648) 26

3. The brilliant verve of Natoire and Boucher (Locquin, 1912) 29
   Critics, severe and often outlandish (Natoire, 1755) 34
   Reduced to decorating overdoors (Natoire, 1747) 42
   A loving attention (Tosatto, 1998) 48

4. Natoire is the most qualified (Tournehem, 1750) 53

Part II (1752-1777) 59
5. It seems necessary to pass some time in Rome (Perrault, 1664) 61
   Have students copy all that is beautiful in Rome (Colbert, 1673) 66
6. A deep understanding of what is required (d’Antin, 1708) 71
   The shortcomings were infinite (Marigny, 1752) 72
   A poor eulogy (Guiffrey, 1897) 75
7. My position requires it (Natoire, 1755) 77
   It would be better if it didn’t cost so much (Natoire, 1751) 82
   Never received, only admitted (Guiffrey, 1900) 85
8. Completely inadequate for a difficult time (Lecoy, 1874) 89
   Compel them to be obedient, well-behaved, humble and focused on work (Colbert, 1682) 91
   I have made myself a little bit hated (Vleughels, 1731) 99
   He has found the secret of making all the pensionnaires hate him (Cochin, 1765) 102
   This innovation appears to threaten their self-esteem (Natoire, 1754) 106
9. This strayed lamb (Natoire, 1753) 111
   Unless you want to pass for a heretic (Natoire, 1753) 113
   Whip in hand (Natoire, 1753) 116
   Everything stems from this affair (Réponse du sieur Mouton, 1769) 122
10. Never a more singular case (Mémoires secrets, 1768) 125
    We believed him lost (Natoire, 1766) 126
    I associated only with the French Minims (Mouton, 1769) 127
    Unsociable and uncompromising (Natoire, 1767) 129
    ‘Facts’ born of spite (Mémoire pour le sieur Natoire, 1769) 134
    These assertions are baseless (Mémoire pour le sieur Natoire, 1769) 138
    We understand Natoire’s plan perfectly (Mémoire sur referé, 1769) 143
    I don’t know what to hold on to (Natoire, 1770) 145
    A troublesome shadow (Worley, 2003) 147
11. I’ve been advancing money to the Academy for a long time
    (Natoire, 1773) 149
    Receipts examined. Passed (Comptes des Bâtiments, 1683) 151
    The Bâtiments cannot cover expenses (Villacerf, 1694) 155
    We are, in truth, in very difficult times (Marinier, 1706) 156
    Funds are suspended (Marigny, 1758) 161
If you had simply looked (Périer, 1766) 164
I have always advanced my own salary (Natoire, 1775) 168
Proved by A + B (Alaux, 1933) 170
12. I must obey and conform (Natoire, 1775) 179
I already have my eye on someone (d'Angiviller, 1775) 179
The tears of old age (Huve, 1775) 182
At the edge of his grave (Bernis, 1777) 185
Natoire's death aroused little emotion (Caviglia-Brunel, 2012) 190
We didn't know him well (Mantz, 1852) 194

Appendix 1: Natoire and art (1737-1777) 199
Section 1: Natoire on painting (1747) 199
Section 2: Natoire and the public (1737-1757) 201

Appendix 2: Natoire and money (1752-1777) 221
Section 1: Funds received and expended, differences/ (deficits) and advances (1752-1775) 221
Section 2: 'Observations', January 1773 224
Section 3: 'Comparaison des différentes comptabilités de M. Natoire, Directeur de l'Académie de Rome', 6 February 1773 226
Section 4: Cuvilier, 'Comptabilité telle qu'elle devroit être réglée à 5 1. par écu', 20 April 1773 228
Section 5: 'Mémoire pour parvenir au règlement des comptes de M. Natoire sur la gestion qu'il a eu de l'Académie de France à Rome', August 1776 229
Section 6: 'Rapport en dernière analyse de la question à décider vis-à-vis de M. Natoire', 2 May 1777 230
Section 7: 'Comptabilité de M. Natoire, ancien directeur de l'Académie', 2 May 1777 232

Bibliography 235
Index 247