Preface
Historical and Conceptual Foundations
An Overview
A History of Scholarship
University Correspondence Study: A Revised Historiographic Perspective
Charles Wedemeyer: Visionary Pioneer of Distance Education
Building the Future: A Theoretical Perspective
The Theory of Transactional Distance
Independent Learning
The Community of Inquiry Theoretical Framework
Learners, Learning, and Learner Support
An Overview
Cognitive Perspectives on Online Learning Environments
Satisfaction with Distance Education
Student Persistence, and Teaching Strategies to Support it
Student Achievement in Elementary and High School
Culture and Online Distance Learning
Academic Advising in Degree Programs
Enabling Learning for Disabled Students
The Role of Academic Libraries
Design and Teaching
An Overview
Theory to Practice in Instructional Design
Instructional Design Models for Optimal Learning
Activity Design and Instruction in Online Learning
Technology Integration: From Implementation to Dynamic Scaffolding
Realizing the Promise of Learning Objects
Emerging Practice and Research in Blended Learning
Modes of Interaction
Teaching and Learning in Negotiated and Informal Environments
Faculty Participation In Online Distance Education
Students and Teachers as Ethical Actors
Policies, Administration, and Management
An Overview
Management of Online Programs
Institutional Policy Issues
Strategic Planning and Needs Assessment
Institutional Leadership
Accreditation: Assuring Quality and Fostering Improvement
Evaluating Distance Education Programs in an Era of Globalization
The Changing Costs of Delivery of Distance Education Programs