The Background to Immunoassay
Requirements for Immunoassays - Purified Ligand and Standards
Requirements for Immunoassays - Tracer Using Radioisotopic Labels
Requirements for Immunoassays - Tracer Ligand Using Non-Isotropic Labels
Requirements for Immunoassays - Antibodies and Other Binding Proteins
Requirements for Immunoassays - Separation Systems
Requirements for Immunoassays - Extraction of Ligand from Biological Fluids, and Collection and Storage of Samples
Requirements for Immunoassays - Calculation of Results
Characteristics of Immunoassays - Sensitivity
Characteristics of Immunoassays - Specificity
Characteristics of Immunoassays - Precision
Characteristics of Immunoassays - Relation to Other Types of Assay
Automation of Immunoassays
Organisation of Assay Services
Radiation Counters
Radiation Monitors
Suppliers of Reagents and Chemicals
Suppliers of General Reagents and Materials as Listed in Text
Safety Precautions in the Handling of Radioactive Isotopes
