Acknowledgements

Introduction

Theories and forms: Documentary as genre

The voice of documentary

The image mirrored: Reflexivity and the documentary film

Television, documentary and the category of the aesthetic

Mirrors without memories: Truth, history and the New Documentary

The inside view: Producers and directors

The Canadian Film Board Unit B

An interview with Emile de Antonio

The war game: An interview with Peter Watkins

New agendas in black film-making: An interview with Marlon Riggs

Jumping off the cliff: A conversation with Dennis O’Rourke

The politics of documentary: A symposium

Staying alive

Issues of ethics and aesthetics

Ethics

Ultimately we are all outsiders

The ethics of imagemaking

Word is Out and Gay USA

Building a mock-documentary schema

Sounds real: Music and documentary

Bowling for Columbine: A review

Changing contexts in television

The McCarthy See It Now broadcast

An independent with the networks

New boy: An independent with Israel TV

Reflections on An American Family

American High: Documentary as episodic television

Documentary and truth on television: The crisis of 1999

Versions of history

History on the public screen I

History on the public screen II

Historical analysis: Content, production and reception

Narrative, invention and history

Against the ivory tower: An apologia for “popular” historical documentaries

The event: Archive and imagination

Docudrama: Border disputes

Dramadoc / docudrama: The law and regulation

US Docudrama and “Movie-of-the-Week”

Death of a princess: Interview with Anthony Thomas
Dramatized documentary
Where are we going, and how and why?
Acknowledgements
Table of Contents provided by Blackwell's Book Services and R.R. Bowker. Used with permission.