List of Illustrations

Box, and Tables p. ix
Preface p. xi
Political Analysis of the Trade Regime p. 1
Introduction p. 1
Understanding the Political Economy of the GATT/WTO Regime p. 5
State Power and International Trade Institutions p. 10
Nonstate Actors and Domestic Institutional Design p. 14
Ideas and Institutional Design p. 16
Accommodating Changes in Power, Interests, and Ideas p. 18
Alternative Perspectives on the Trade Regime p. 22
Creating Constituencies and Rules for Open Markets p. 27
Why Create a Trade Regime? p. 29
The GATT 1947 Trade Regime p. 38
The Early GATT p. 41
Creating the WTO p. 47
Making Authoritative Decisions p. 48
Alternatives to Multilateralism: Preferential Trade Agreements p. 52
Conclusion: The Trade Regime, Domestic Constituencies, and Free Trade p. 55
The Politics of the GATT/WTO Legal System: Legislative and Judicial Processes p. 61
Legislative Rules and Processes --and Transatlantic Power p. 61
Implementation and Dispute Settlement: The Expansion of Judicial Lawmaking and Transatlantic Power p. 67
Conclusion: Prospects for Continued Viability of WTO Legislative and Judicial Rules p. 87

Expanding Trade Rules and Conventions: Designing New Agreements at the Border p. 91
Introduction p. 91
The Uruguay Round Tasks p. 92
Extension of Scope of Trade System p. 94
Incorporating the "Laggard" Sectors p. 98
Consolidating the Codes p. 108
The Un ?nished Business p. 119
Conclusion p. 120
Extending Trade Rules to Domestic Regulations: Developing "Behind the Border" Instruments p. 125
Introduction p. 125
Bringing in Services: Negotiation of the GATS p. 127
Health, Agricultural Regulations, and Industrial Standards p. 135
Intellectual Property Protection and the Trading System p. 139
The Search for New Principles and New Coalitions p. 149
Expansion of GATT/WTO Membership and the Proliferation of Regional Groups p. 153