List of figures p. viii
List of tables p. x
Notes on contributors p. xi
Preface p. xiv
Introduction p. 1
Perspectives on the study of intercultural conflict management p. 11
Moving from conflict to harmony: the role of dialogue in bridging differences p. 13
A dialogic approach to intercultural conflict management and harmonious relationships: dialogue, ethics and culture p. 29
Between conflict and harmony in the human family: Asiacentricity and its ethical imperative for intercultural communication p. 38
Constituting intercultural harmony by design thinking: conflict management in, for and about diversity and inclusion work p. 66
The development of interculturality and the management of intercultural conflict p. 85
Transforming conflict through communication and common ground p. 98
Conflict face-negotiation theory: tracking its evolutionary journey p. 123
The yin and yang of conflict management and resolution: a Chinese perspective p. 144
Rethinking cultural identity in the context of globalization comparative insights from the Kemetic and Confucian traditions p. 155
Conflict management in cultural contexts p. 175
Intercultural conflict and conflict management in South Africa as depicted in indigenous African literary texts p. 177
Cultural orientations and conflict management styles with peers and older adults: the indirect effects through filial obligations p. 194
Intercultural communication management professionals in the Japanese linguistic and cultural environment p. 210
The discursive construction of identities and conflict management strategies in parent-child conflict narratives written by Chinese university students p. 221
A Chinese model of constructive conflict management p. 239
Conflicts in an international business context: a theoretical analysis of interpersonal (pseudo) conflicts p. 254
Intercultural conflicts in transnational mergers and acquisitions: the case of a failed deal p. 278
Intercultural challenges in multinational corporations p. 295
Index p. 311

Table of Contents provided by Blackwell's Book Services and R.R. Bowker. Used with permission.