Foreword p. vii
List of Abbreviations p. xv
Introduction p. 1
Research questions and topics of interest p. 3
Methodology p. 4
Mapping the Terrain from An Interdisciplinary And International Perspective Terminology p. 11
Reproduction, procreation, insemination, fertilisation and conception p. 11
Wish, desire and need to have a child p. 13
Rearing, bearing and begetting a child p. 13
Progenitors/begetters, donors and parents (genetic, biological, social and legal) p. 15
Kinship and family p. 19
"Artificial insemination" and sperm donation as assisted reproductive technologies p. 30
International Regulations p. 33
The Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights p. 37
The Convention on the Elimination of all Forms of Discrimination Against Women p. 38
The Convention on the Rights of the Child p. 38
The Oviedo Convention, the Universal Declaration on the Human Genome and Human Rights and the Universal Declaration on Bioethics and Human Rights p. 38
European framework p. 44
The consideration of the international conventions by the European Court of Human Rights p. 45
European Convention on Human Rights and the margin of appreciation in the field of family life p. 49
The case law of the European Court of Human Rights p. 53
The case law in the field of reproductive rights and the right to found a family p. 53
The reproductive right of a couple p. 53
Right to access to assisted reproductive technology for a couple (competing public and private interests) p. 53
Right to sperm and ova donation of a couple and in general p. 53
The reproductive right of an individual p. 55
Competing interests between two individuals comprising a couple regarding the reproductive choice in the use of assisted reproduction p. 55
Right of a single person to found a family by adoption p. 56
The case law in the field of parental rights p. 57
Establishing and rebutting the parental legal affiliation grounded in the marital presumption p. 57
Establishing parental legal affiliation out of wedlock p. 62
Establishing parental legal affiliation for the sperm donor p. 66
The case law in the field of children's rights p. 69
Right to information about genetic origin or personal history p. 69
Legal proceedings for establishing paternity of ART conceived children p. 104
Belgium p. 106
Introduction of the legal context in applying ART p. 106
The right of single women to use ART p. 106
The right of the child to know the identity of the donor p. 106
Legal proceedings for establishing paternity of ART conceived children p. 107
United Kingdom p. 107
Introduction of the legal context in applying ART p. 107
The right of single women to use ART p. 108
The right of the child to know the identity of the donor p. 109
Legal proceedings for establishing paternity of ART conceived children p. 109
Sweden p. 110
Introduction of the legal context in applying ART p. 110
The right of single women to use ART III p. 115
The right of the child to know the identity of the donor III p. 115
Legal proceedings for establishing paternity of ART conceived children p. 112
The Legal, Ethical and Sociological Positions of the Participants
Assisting Single Women to Found Families p. 115
The "nature" of the reproduction p. 120
The reproductive right as an individual right p. 122
The reproductive right as a right to privacy p. 125
The "artificiality" of reproduction p. 127
The reproductive right as a right to family life p. 127
The reproductive right as a greater public good p. 130
The reproductive right as a right to access ART on equal grounds for everybody - principle of non-discrimination p. 137
Infertility as an inability to conceive in the context of single women p. 142
The reproductive rights and the correlative responsibilities of the couple p. 151
Rights p. 151
Responsibilities p. 154
Marriage p. 155
Extra-marital relationship p. 161
Not regulated relationship p. 163
The individual reproductive rights and correlative responsibilities of single women p. 164
Rights p. 164
Responsibilities p. 166
Single women as involuntarily single parents p. 168
Single women as parents by posthumous reproduction p. 170
Single women as parents by choice p. 171
Discussion of the position of single women using assistance by sperm donors to reproduce p. 177
Sperm Donors as Assistance to Reproduction for Single Women p. 183

"The nature" and "the artificiality" of sperm donation p. 188

The rights and correlative obligations of sperm donors donating to couples and single women p. 198

Anonymous sperm donor p. 199

Non-anonymous sperm donor p. 204

Discussion of the position of sperm donors assisting single women to reproduce p. 212

Differences and similarities between the legal positions of sperm donors donating to couples and single women p. 212

Differences and similarities between the legal positions of anonymous and non-anonymous sperm donors p. 218

Children Conceived by Sperm Donors' Assistance to Single Women p. 225

Children conceived "naturally" p. 231

Children born in and out of wedlock p. 233

Children living in stepfamilies p. 241

Children given up for adoption and adopted p. 242

Children conceived "artificially" p. 246

Discussion of the position of children conceived by sperm donation to single women p. 249

Conflicting rights in conceptions by sperm donations to single women p. 253

Harmonising differences between children conceived "naturally" and "artificially" p. 261

The reasons why children should have a right to access the data on their genetic origin p. 261

The reasons why children's parents/the state should have a right to make the genetic origin a non-accessible secret p. 262

The reasons why children conceived "naturally" and "artificially" are treated differently by law p. 263

Legal Ways of Establishing Fatherhood p. 269

Establishing Fatherhood through an International Prism p. 277

"Natural" conceptions - biological/genetic fatherhood as a principle rule p. 281

Marriage p. 283

Extra-marital relationships p. 289

"Artificial" conceptions - social and legal fatherhood as a principle rule p. 293

Marriage p. 296

Extra-marital relationships p. 297

Single women - parents by choice p. 298

Extrapolating a universal concept for paternal attribution p. 302

Applying the Results of the Analysis in the Case of the Republic of Macedonia p. 307

Mapping the terrain for the discussion p. 307

De lege lata and considering de lege ferenda p. 314

The Family Law p. 315

Family p. 315
Marriage p. 321
Extra-marital relationships p. 322
Affiliation and establishment of parental responsibilities p. 323
The Law on Bio-medically Assisted Fertilisation p. 328
Beneficiaries of bio-medically assisted fertilisation and the establishment of parental responsibilities p. 328
The right of the child to know his/her genetic origins p. 333
Conclusion: harmonising rights p. 333
References p. 347

Table of Contents provided by Blackwell's Book Services and R.R. Bowker. Used with permission.