Frameworks
A Reference Model for Process Technology p. 1
Towards a Rigorous Approach for Managing Process Evolution p. 3
SPIQ: A Revised Agenda for Software Process Support p. 18
Architectures
Process Engine Interoperability: An Experiment p. 22
A 3-level Atomicity Model for Decentralized Process-Centered Software Engineering Environments p. 61
Improving Software Process Modelling and Enactment Techniques p. 65
Process Web - Process Support for the World Wide Web p. 82
Mechanisms and Policies for Federated PSEEs: Basic Concepts and Open Issues p. 86
Evolution
Active Models and Process Support p. 93
Laws of Software Evolution Revisited p. 108
Estimating the Effort of Implementing ISO 9001 in Software Organizations p. 125
Configuration Management Support for Software Process Models p. 132
A High-Level Object-Oriented Specification Language for Configuration Management and Tool Integration p. 137
Metrics
Human-Oriented Improvement in the Software Process p. 144
No Improvement Without Feedback: Experiences from Goal-Oriented Measurement at Schlumberger p. 145
Towards Measurable Process Models p. 183
Evaluating Workflow and Process Automation in Wide-Area Software Development p. 188
Descriptive Approaches
Process Enactment and Coordination p. 194
Requirements Engineering Process as an Emergent Process p. 217
A Multi-Agent Approach for Modelling, Enacting and Evolving Distributed Cooperative Software Processes p. 225
Organizational Modelling and Management
When Agents Clash p. 236
Theory and Practice of the Software Process: A Field Study and Its Implications for Project Management p. 241
Organizational Design for Software Development: A Cybernetic Perspective p. 257
Extending Process-Centered Environments with Organizational Competence p. 271
A Systematic, View-Based Approach to Eliciting Process Models p. 276
Industrial Experience Session
Process Modelling and Measurements in an Industrial Environment p. 283
Report on Deploying Process Technology on an Industrial Space Software Project p. 288
Software Process Progress in a Dynamic Business Environment p. 289
