

2691-295 2

THE ALCHEMICAL CORPUS
ATTRIBUTED TO RAYMOND LULL

BY

MICHELA PEREIRA

LONDON

THE WARBURG INSTITUTE
UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

1989

Contents

Preface	[vi]
Introduction	1
Chapter 1: Background
1.1 The Testamentum	6
1.2 Works Closely Associated with the Testamentum	8
1.3 The Liber de secretis naturae : Main Features	11
1.4 The Liber de secretis naturae : Textual Problems	16
1.5 Pseudo-Lull and John of Rupescissa	17
1.6 Pseudo-Lull and Raymond of Tarrega	20
Chapter 2: The Spread of Pseudo-Lullian Alchemy
2.1 Pseudo-Lullian Alchemy in Fifteenth-Century England	22
2.2 Alchemy and Alchemical Medicine in Italy	25
2.3 Manuscript Testimonies of the Sixteenth Century	28
2.4 Early Catalogues of Alchemical Writings Attributed to Lull	31
2.5 Later Expansions of the Pseudo-Lullian Corpus	34
Chapter 3: The Legend of Lull the Alchemist
3.1 Two Themes from Different Sources	38
3.2 Lull, Arnald and John Dastin in William Fabri's Alchemical Dialogue	41
3.3 The Legend in Other Fifteenth-Century Texts	43
3.4 Christopher of Paris and the Legend of Lull	44
3.5 The Whole Story	46
3.6 The Triumph of Romance	48
Chapter 4: Scholarly Disputes and Critical Assessment
4.1 First Protests Against the Attribution of Alchemical Works to Lull	50
4.2 Ivo Salzinger: Alchemy as the Core of Lullian Philosophy	53
4.3 Critical Considerations: Sollier and Custurer on Lull's Alchemy	56
4.4 Beyond the Idea of Forgery	58
Catalogue of Alchemical Works Attributed to Raymond Lull	61
List of Abbreviations	63
I The Pseudo-Lullian Alchemical Corpus	64
II Works Occasionally Attributed to Lull in Manuscripts	86
III Works to be Excluded from the Corpus	93
Index of Manuscripts	97
Index of Titles	102
Index of Incipits	105
Bibliography	108
Index of Names	116