Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS ix

INTRODUCTION 1

1. Jews, Paupers, and Other Savages: The Economic Image of the Jew in Western Europe, 1648–1848 11
   Economic Antisemitism in Historical Perspective 13
   Moralism, Mercantilism, and Cameralism 23
   The Jew as Pauper 35
   The Jew as Savage 38
   The Jew as Master 42

2. The Origins of Jewish Political Economy, 1648–1848 50
   Judaism and Economics 52
   Mercantilism and Jewish Modernity 59
   Educating Shylock: Economics in the German Haskalah 68
   Economics in the Eastern European Haskalah 81
   From the Periphery to the Center: Political Economy in German Jewish Social Thought, 1815–1848 84

3. The Origins of Modern Jewish Philanthropy, 1789–1860 90
   Rationality, Morality, and Philanthropy 92
   The Theory and Practice of Jewish Productivization 107
4. Homo economicus judaicus and the Spirit of Capitalism, 1848–1914 124

Economic Mobility 126
Abnormality and Distinctiveness 134
Gentile Visions of Homo economicus judaicus 138
Burghers of the Mosaic Persuasion 144
Wirtschaft and Wissenschaft: Economics and Jewish Historiography 158

5. Solving the “Jewish Problem”: Jewish Social Policy, 1860–1933 174

The Communal Arena: From Philanthropy to Social Welfare 176
Jewish Social Policy and Bourgeois Social Reform 185
The National Arena: Jewish Immigration Policy 195
“Productivization”: Apologetic, Romantic, or Realistic? 205
Social Policy and Jewish Social Science 216
The Birth of Sociological Judaism 219

6. From Social Policy to Social Engineering, 1870–1933 223

Zionism as a Form of International Jewish Politics 225
Jewish Social Policy in Palestine 232
Colonization as Social Engineering 238

EPILOGUE 255

NOTES 263

BIBLIOGRAPHY 329

INDEX 359