UK Drugs Unlimited
New Research and Policy Lessons on Illicit Drug Use

Edited by

Howard Parker
Professor and Director of SPARC
University of Manchester

Judith Aldridge
Lecturer in Criminology and Social Policy
University of Manchester

and

Roy Egginton
Research Associate
SPARC
University of Manchester

palgrave
Contents

List of tables viii
List of figures x
Acknowledgements xi
Notes on the contributors xii
Glossary xiv
Introduction xv

1 Unbelievable? The UK's Drugs Present
Howard Parker
Purpose 1
The comparative picture 2
The UK's first heroin 'cycle' 4
The 1990s and the normalisation of recreational drug use 8
Waging war on drugs together 10
Conclusion 12

2 Unenforceable? How Young Britons Obtain Their Drugs
Howard Parker
Purpose 14
Strong supply and availability 15
Methods 16
Adolescent recreational drug users 18
The dance club-dance drug scene 24
Dependent on drugs, dependent on dealers 25
Conclusions 27

3 Unconventional? Adolescent Drug Triers and Users in England
Roy Egginton, Judith Aldridge and Howard Parker
Purpose 31
Introduction 32
Method 32
Alcohol and tobacco use 33
Young people's access to drugs 34
Trying illicit drugs 35
Past month use 39
Distinguishing drug triers from users 41
Regular drug use 44
Comparing age cohorts 46
Unconventional? Risk and deviance factor analysis 46
Conclusion 48

4 Unpreventable? How Young People Make and Remake Drug Taking Decisions
Jon Breeze, Judith Aldridge and Howard Parker
Purpose 51
Introduction: drugwise youth 52
The qualitative methods 55
New social rites 57
Abstainers' journeys 59
Drug triers 63
Becoming drug users 71
Becoming a problem drug user 76
Conclusion 78

5 Unstoppable? Dance Drug Use in the UK Club Scene
Fiona Measham, Judith Aldridge and Howard Parker
Purpose 80
The going out, time out population 81
Profiles of the clubbing population 81
The nightclub fieldwork 83
The clubbers' nights out 86
The cost of clubbing 89
Pathways to regular dance drug use 92
Discussion 93

6 Unreachable? The New Young Heroin Users
Howard Parker, Roy Egginton and Nicola Elson
Purpose 98
Introduction 99
Attempting to monitor new heroin spread 99
Accessing 'hidden' young heroin users 101
Demographic characteristics of the young heroin users 103
The social exclusion, 'at risk' measures 103
Contents

Smoking tobacco, drinking alcohol and trying and use of illicit drugs 106
Damaged childhoods and adolescence? 108
Heroin careers: initiation, evolution and current use status 109
The consequences and costs of heroin dependency 111
Problems with personal health 117
Reaching out and early interventions 123
Conclusion 126

7 Untreatable? Hidden Crack Cocaine and Poly Drug Users 128
Kevin Brain, Howard Parker and Tim Bottomley
Purpose 128
Crack cocaine prevalence in the UK 129
Challenging methods 130
Evolving crack careers 131
Rock repertoires, drug bills and drug crime connections 136
Contemplating and affecting ‘reform’ 140
New recruits and new crack careers – continuity and change 143
New pathways into crack cocaine careers 146
Discussion 147

8 Unpredictable? Britain’s Drugs Futures 150
Howard Parker, Judith Aldridge and Roy Egginton
Purpose 150
The forces of conservatism 151
The fate of UK drugs strategy 153
The missing elements 162
Institutionalised dishonesty 164
Monitoring and managing UK drugs more effectively 165

Bibliography 171

Index 178