Contents

Acknowledgments  ix

Introduction  1

1. Poetry and Culture: Performativity and Critique  9

2. Browning’s Bishop Conceives a Tomb  32
   Cultural Ordering as Cultural Critique

3. The Mark as Matrix  56
   Subject(ion) and Agency in Barrett Browning’s
   “The Runaway Slave at Pilgrim’s Point”

4. Clough’s Resisted Performative  90
   Material Act and Bacchanalian Revel in Dipsychus

5. Prostitution, Representation, and Desire  123
   The Politics of Male Liberalism in D. G. Rossetti’s “Jenny”

6. Webster’s Castaway Courtesan  158
   Living on the Cultural Margin

Afterword  185

Form as Process

Notes  191

Bibliography  203

Index  213