PART ONE    Foundations of Evolutionary Psychology    1

1    The Scientific Movements Leading to Evolutionary Psychology    2

Landmarks in the History of Evolutionary Thinking    3

- Evolution before Darwin    3
- Darwin's Theory of Natural Selection    4
- Darwin's Theory of Sexual Selection    6
- The Role of Natural and Sexual Selection in Evolutionary Theory    8
- The Modern Synthesis: Genes and Particulate Inheritance    10
- The Ethology Movement    11
- The Inclusive Fitness Revolution    13
- Clarifying Adaptation and Natural Selection    15
- Trivers's Seminal Theories    17
- The Sociobiology Controversy    18

Common Misunderstandings about Evolutionary Theory    19

- Misunderstanding 1: Human Behavior Is Genetically Determined    19
- Misunderstanding 2: If It's Evolutionary, We Can't Change It    19
- Misunderstanding 3: Current Mechanisms Are Optimally Designed    20

Milestones in the Origins of Modern Humans    21

- B O X 1.1 Out of Africa versus Multiregional Origins: The Origins of Modern Humans    25

Landmarks in the Field of Psychology    27

- Freud's Psychoanalytic Theory    27
- William James and the Psychology of Instincts    27
- The Rise of Behaviorism    28
- The Astonishing Discoveries of Cultural Variability    29
- The Garcia Effect, Prepared Fears, and the Decline of Radical Behaviorism    30
- Peering into the Black Box: The Cognitive Revolution    31

The Origins of Human Nature	37
Three Theories of the Origins of Complex Adaptive Mechanisms	37
The Three Products of Evolution	38
Levels of Evolutionary Analysis in Evolutionary Psychology	42
The Core of Human Nature: Fundamentals of Evolved Psychological Mechanisms	49
All Species Have a Nature	49
Definition of an Evolved Psychological Mechanism	50
Important Properties of Evolved Psychological Mechanisms	53
Methods for Testing Evolutionary Hypotheses	58
Comparing Different Species	58
Comparing Males and Females	59
Comparing Individuals within a Species	60
Comparing the Same Individuals in Different Contexts	60
Experimental Methods	61
Sources of Data for Testing Evolutionary Hypotheses	61
Archeological Records	61
Data from Hunter-Gatherer Societies	61
Observations	62
Self-Reports	62
Life-History Data and Public Records	63
Human Products	63
Transcending the Limitations of Single Data Sources	63
Identifying Adaptive Problems	64
Guidance from Modern Evolutionary Theory	64
Guidance from Knowledge of Universal Human Structures	65
Guidance from Traditional Societies	65
Guidance from Paleoarcheology and Paleoanthropology	66
Guidance from Current Mechanisms	66
Guidance from Task Analysis	66
Organization of Adaptive Problems	67
Summary	67
Suggested Readings	68

PART TWO Problems of Survival 69*3 Combating the Hostile Forces of Nature:
Human Survival Problems 70*Food Acquisition and Selection 71

- Food Selection in Rats 72
- Food Selection in Humans 73
- Why Humans Like Spices: The Antimicrobial Hypothesis 74
- Why Humans Like to Drink Alcohol: An Evolutionary Hangover? 75
- Sickness in Pregnant Women: The Embryo Protection Hypothesis 76
- The Hunting Hypothesis 78
- The Gathering Hypothesis 82
- Comparing the Hunting and Gathering Hypotheses 84
- The Scavenging Hypothesis 84
- Adaptations to Gathering and Hunting: Sex Differences in Specific Spatial Abilities 86

Finding a Place to Live: Shelter and Landscape Preferences 87

- The Savanna Hypothesis 88

Combating Predators and Other Environmental Dangers: Fears, Phobias, Anxieties, and “Evolutionary Memories” 90

- Most Common Human Fears 91
- Children’s Antipredator Adaptations 94
  - B O X 3.1 The Adaptive Conservation Hypothesis of Fears 95
- Combating Disease 96

Are Humans Programmed to Die? 97

- The Theory of Senescence 97
- The Puzzle of Suicide 98

Summary 100*Suggested Readings 101*PART THREE Challenges of Sex and Mating 103*4 Women’s Long-Term Mating Strategies 104*Theoretical Background for the Evolution of Mate Preferences 105

- Asexual versus Sexual Reproduction 105
- Parental Investment and Sexual Selection 106
- Mate Preferences as Evolved Psychological Mechanisms 107

The Content of Women's Mate Preferences	109
Preference for Economic Resources	110
Preference for Good Financial Prospects	111
Preference for High Social Status	114
Preference for Older Men	116

Effect of Men's Mate Preferences on Women's Attraction Tactics	159
Summary	161
Suggested Readings	162

6 Short-Term Sexual Strategies 163

Theories of Men's Short-Term Mating	163
Adaptive Benefits for Men of Short-Term Mating	164
Potential Costs of Short-Term Mating for Men	164
• BOX 6.1 Functions versus Beneficial Effects of Short-Term Mating	165
Adaptive Problems Men Must Solve When Pursuing Short-Term Mating	165
Evidence for an Evolved Short-Term Mating Psychology	167
Physiological Evidence for Short-Term Mating	167
Psychological Evidence for Short-Term Mating	169
Behavioral Evidence of Short-Term Mating	174
Women's Short-Term Mating	175
Evidence for Women's Short-Term Mating	176
Hypotheses about the Adaptive Benefits to Women of Short-Term Mating	177
Costs to Women of Short-Term Mating	179
Empirical Tests of Hypothesized Benefits to Women	180
Context Effects on Short-Term Mating	182
Individual Differences in Short-Term Mating	182
Other Contexts Likely to Affect Short-Term Mating	183
Summary	185
Suggested Readings	186

PART FOUR Challenges of Parenting and Kinship 187

7 Problems of Parenting 188

Why Do Mothers Provide More Parental Care Than Fathers?	190
--	------------

The Paternity Uncertainty Hypothesis	191
The Abandonability Hypothesis	191
The Mating Opportunity Cost Hypothesis	192

An Evolutionary Perspective on Parental Care 193

Genetic Relatedness to Offspring	194
Offspring's Ability to Convert Parental Care into Reproductive Success	202
Alternative Uses of Resources Available for Investment in Children	206

The Theory of Parent–Offspring Conflict 212

Mother–Offspring Conflict In Utero	214
The Oedipal Complex Revisited	215
• BOX 7.1 Killing Parents and the Asymmetry of Valuing Parents and Children	217

Summary 217

Suggested Readings 219

8 Problems of Kinship 220

Theory and Implications of Inclusive Fitness 221

Hamilton's Rule	221
Theoretical Implications of Hamilton's Rule	222

Empirical Findings that Support the Implications of Inclusive Fitness Theory 226

Alarm Calling in Ground Squirrels	227
Patterns of Helping in the Lives of Los Angeles Women	228
Life-or-Death Helping among Humans	229
Genetic Relatedness and Emotional Closeness: Is Blood Thicker Than Water?	231
Kinship and Survival	232
