Governance and Politics of China

Second Edition

Tony Saich

palgrave macmillan
Contents

List of Maps, Boxes and Figures x
Preface to the Second Edition xiii
Acknowledgements xix
Romanization and Chinese Measures xx
List of Abbreviations xxi

1 Introduction 1
   A land of diversity 2
   The impact of CCP policy 12

2 China's Changing Road to Development:
   Political History, 1949–78 25
   Parameters of policy debate 27
   Economic recovery and the adoption of the Soviet model, 1949–55 30
   The origins of a Chinese path to socialism, 1955–62 37
   The radicalization of politics and the resurrection of class struggle, 1962–78 43

3 China Under Reform, 1978–2003 57
   The Third Plenum and the initial reform agenda, 1978–84 57
   Economic troubles and political instability, 1985–91 64
   Return to economic reform, boom and moderation, 1992–97 75
   Managing reform without Deng, 1997–2002 80
   The Sixteenth Party Congress and beyond 86

4 The Chinese Communist Party 91
   Party organization and membership 91
   The role of the CCP in the political system 110
Contents

5 The Central Governing Apparatus 121
   Central government 124
   The legal system, coercive control and rights 136
   The military and the political system 145

6 Governance Beyond the Centre 155
   The organization of local government 155
   The province as a unit of analysis 158
   Regional inequality 164
   Relations between the centre and the localities:
      the fiscal picture 167
   The consequences for local governance 170

7 Political Participation and Protest 180
   Mao Zedong and participation in theory and practice 180
   Modernization and participation since Mao 183
   Impact on the sanctioned organizational structure of representation 184
   Participation at the grass roots and the role of elections 192
   Non-sanctioned participation 202

8 The Chinese State and Society 213
   The Maoist period: an autonomous state and a state-dominated society 213
   State–society relations under reforms: a negotiated state
      Of civil society, corporatism, predation and negotiation 226

9 Economic Policy 233
   Policy-making and implementation 233
   Economic policy 236
   Gradualism or ‘shock therapy’ as a transitional strategy 237
   General policy for economic reform 241
   Agricultural policy 244
   Industrial policy 253
   Financial sector reform 264

10 Social Policy 268
   Social policy and the transition in China 269
   Family planning: problems of policy coordination and policy evasion 274
   Reform in the SOEs: cutting the Gordian knot 277
   Providing adequate healthcare in urban China 284
   Migration 287
Inequality and healthcare in rural China 291
Poverty alleviation 297

11 Foreign Policy 305
  China and globalization 305
  China and the great power(s) 310
  China and the region 318
  China's foreign economic relations 321

12 Challenges in the Twenty-First Century 329
  The internal challenge: corruption 329
  The external challenge: the information revolution 337
  The final challenge: good governance and political reform 342

Further Reading 348
Bibliography 353
Index 377