Table of contents

Chapter 1
The composition of meaning
Alice ter Meulen and Werner Abraham

Chapter 2
Coordination in morphology and syntax: The case of copulative compounds
Susan Olsen

Chapter 3
Aspect, infinitival complements, and evidentials
Elly van Gelderen

Chapter 4
The problem of unintelligibility
Helen de Hoop

Chapter 5
VP-internal subjects as ‘unaccusatives’: Burzio’s ‘Object Account’ vs. the ‘Perfectivity Account’
Werner Abraham

II. Mapping meaning to information structure

Chapter 6
Either, both and neither in coordinate structures
Petra Hendriks
CHAPTER 7
Information structure meets Minimalist syntax: On argument order and case morphology in Bavarian

Helmut Weiß

CHAPTER 8
Focus particles, sentence meaning, and discourse structure

Klaus von Heusinger

CHAPTER 9
On the interpretation of multiple negation in spoken and written Afrikaans

László Molnárfi

Index