

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS vii

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS ix

Introduction
Angelika Malinar 1

IRREVERSIBILITY AND REPETITION: HISTORICAL CONSTRUCTIONS AND RELIGIOUS DISCOURSE

1. Time Concepts, Social Identities and Historical Consciousness
in Early India
Romila Thapar 23
2. The King's Own Time: The Añka System of Orissa
Georg Berkemer 39
3. Interconnecting Parallel Times: Notions of Time in the Caitanya Tradition
Angelika Malinar 55
4. Babas and Alekhs: Notes on Concepts of Time and Social Change in a Contemporary Ascetic Doctrine
Lidia Guzy 81

RITUAL TIME AND LIFE-CYCLE: COLLECTIVE REPRESENTATIONS, INDIVIDUAL NEEDS

5. Rhythms of Life: Ritual Time and Historical Time
Frédérique Apffel-Marglin 99
6. Time for Ritual: The Pañjīs of Puri and Jajpur
Heinrich von Stietencron 123
7. Cosmic Time and its Influence on Rona Girls and Women
Tina Otten 137
8. Children Sold and Thrown Away: Temporary Identifications
in a Converging Tribal and Caste Society
Uwe Skoda 157
9. Memory, Performance and the Regeneration of Society Among the Koya
Ulrich Demmer 185

COPING WITH MODERN HISTORIOGRAPHY:
TIME AND THE PROBLEM OF IDENTITY

10. Maṇikeśvarī and Dokrī: Changing Representations of Two Tribal Goddesses and the Dynastic Histories of Orissa Cornelia Mallebrein	203
11. Casting a Glorious Past: Loss and Retrieval of the Ol Chiki Script Barbara Lotz	235
12. Changing One's Own Identity: The Role of Language in the Transformation of a Subregional Tradition G.N. Dash	265
13. Imagined Chronologies: Perceptions of 'Development' as a Tool in Mapping Oriya Identity Jayanta Sengupta	287
INDEX	315