CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ................................................................. pag. 11
Introduction by Malcolm Smuts and George Gorse ................. » 13

PART I
COURTS, SPACE, AND PATRONAGE

Chapter 1. “The City of the Prince: Space and Power”
Marcello Fantoni (University of Teramo) .............................. » 39

Chapter 2. “Palace, City, Dominions: The Spatial Dimension of Habsburg Rule”
Jeroen Duindam (University of Groningen) ........................... » 59

Chapter 3. “Terrestrial and Celestial Spaces of the Danish Court, 1550-1650”
John Robert Christianson (Luther College, Iowa) ................. » 91

PART II
COURTS AND URBAN SPACE

Chapter 4. “A Forum for the Court of Philip IV: Architecture and Space in Seventeenth-Century Madrid”
Jesús Escobar (Northwestern University) ............................... » 121
Contents

John Beldon Scott (University of Iowa) ........................................ pag. 141

Chapter 6. “Commemorating the Conquest: Local Politics and Festival Statecraft in Early Colonial Mexico City”
Linda A. Curcio-Nagy (University of Nevada, Reno) ................. » 171

Part III
COURTS, RECEPTION, AND DIPLOMACY

Chapter 7. “The King’s Space: The Etiquette of Interviews at the French Court in the Sixteenth Century”
Monique Chatenet (Centre André Chastel, Paris) ....................... » 193

Chapter 8. “Many Courts, Many Spaces”
Patricia Waddy (Syracuse University, New York) ....................... » 209

Chapter 9. “Otium cum negotium: Villa Life at the Court of Paul V Borghese”
Tracy Ehrlich (Independent Scholar, New York) ....................... » 231

Part IV
GENDER, RELIGION AND POWER

Chapter 10. “A New Place for Queens in Early Modern France”
Nicola Courtright (Amherst College, Massachusetts) .................... » 267

Simon Thurley (English Heritage) ............................................. » 293

Chapter 12. “The Somerset House Chapel and the Topography of London Catholicism”
Caroline M. Hibbard (University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign) » 317

Anna Keay (English Heritage) .................................................. » 339
Chapter 14. “Privacy, Family, and Devotion at the Court of Philip II”
Magdalena S. Sánchez (Gettysburg College, Pennsylvania) pag. 361