CONTENTS

Dedication ................................................................. vii
Contents .............................................................................. ix
Preface ............................................................................... xi

1. Transition to Transformation: ................................. 1
   Towards a Post-Colonial Maltese History ..............

2. The North in the South: ........................................... 17
   Trends and Tensions in the ‘British’
   Mediterranean (1704–1964)........................................

3. On Being Oneself: .................................................... 35
   Language and Nationhood in Culture,
   Perception, and Power..............................................

4. Nerik Mizzi in Italy before the First World War: ....... 73
   The Formative Years.................................................

5. Maltese Exile in Egypt: ..............................................
   Why was Manwel Dimech not repatriated after the First World War?................................................

6. Improving Anglo-Maltese Bonds: 1921 in Malta ...... 153

7. Colonialism, Nationalism, and Fascism: ................. 171
   Early Resonances of the ‘New Italy’ in Maltese
   Politics (1922–1924)................................................

8. Imperialists and Nationalists: .................................. 197
   Britain and Italy in Malta (1924–1927)....................

9. Britain’s European Mediterranean: ....................... 219
   Language, Religion, and Politics in Lord Strickland’s Malta (1927–1930)......................

10. Australian Perspectives: Strickland’s Malta and his Earlier Governorships.................................... 269
11. Dominion Status or Colonial Rule?
The Constitutional Breakdown in
Malta and Cyprus (1930–1933) ........................................ 315
12. Strategy, Economics and Politics:
The Royal Dockyard in Malta
and the Mediterranean .................................................. 361
13. From Crash to Cataclysm:
Coping with the Depression and the Second World War .................................................. 383
14. Language, Religion, and Empire:
The Yearning for Ethnic Identity among
Maltese Migrants in North Africa ................................. 417
15. Prelude to Abyssinia:
Strains in Anglo-Italian Relations as the Malta Language Question Culminates in 1934 .... 447
16. Whose 'Mare Nostrum'?
The Fear of a War over Malta in 1935 .............. 495
17. Rule Britannia:
The Clampdown on 'Disloyalty', 1936–1940 ...... 541
18. The Winter of '42:
Exiling Imprisoned Nationals Without Charge ... 677
19. The Hanged Artist-Irredentist:
Whose Traitor was Borg Pisani? ....................... 699
20. The Seen and the Unseen:
Consequences of World War II on Malta
and the Maltese .......................................................... 727
21. Concluding a Turbulent Epoch:
The Post-War Treason Trials ................................. 757
22. A Culture of Dependent Fear: Decolonizing the Mind,
Reclaiming History and the Future of Identity .... 765
23. Appendix 1: Alleged tampering with print at the Malta Press to incriminate Mizzi .................. 791
24. Appendix 2: Attempts to deprive internees of their pensions and have them further disciplined ...... 809
25. Select Bibliography .................................................. 837
26. Name and Place Index ............................................. 851