Contents

Series Foreword by Cameron Northouse xv
Acknowledgments xvii
Chronology xix
Introduction xxv

Biographical Overview
Richard Wright: Black Boy from America's Black Belt and Urban Ghettos
Blyden Jackson 3

Native Son: The Personal, Social, and Political Background
Keneth Kinnamon 15

Native Son (1940)
Review of Native Son
Henry Seidel Canby 23

Review of Native Son
Charles Poore 25

Uneven Effect
Howard Mumford Jones 27

A Powerful Novel About a Boy from Chicago's Black Belt
Margaret Wallace 29

Review of Native Son
Samuel Sillen 31

Wright's Invisible Native Son
Donald B. Gibson 35

Richard Wright's Women Characters and Inequality
Sylvia Keady 43

Wright's Native Son and Two Novels by Zola: A Comparative Study
Robert Butler 51
Black Boy (1945)

Review of Black Boy
Orville Prescott 63

Black Hunger
Charles Lee 65

Richard Wright Looks Back
W.E. Burghardt Du Bois 67

Richard Wright Adds a Chapter to Our Bitter Chronicle
Lillian Smith 69

Creation of the Self in Richard Wright's Black Boy
Yoshinobu Hakutani 71

Sociology of an Existence: Richard Wright and the Chicago School
Carla Cappetti 81

Introduction to the HarperPerennial Edition of Black Boy (American Hunger)
Jerry W. Ward, Jr. 95

The Outsider (1953)

Review of The Outsider
Orville Prescott 103

Review of The Outsider
Arna Bontemps 105

Review of The Outsider
Lorraine Hansberry 109

Richard Wright and the French Existentialists
Michel Fabre 111

Richard Wright's The Outsider: Existentialist Exemplar or Critique?
Amritjit Singh 123

Eight Men (1961)

Lives of More than Quiet Desperation
Richard Sullivan 133

Review of Eight Men
Saunders Redding 135

Richard Wright: A Word of Farewell
Irving Howe 137

The Paradoxical Structure of Richard Wright's "The Man Who Lived Underground"
Patricia D. Watkins 141

Thematic and Formal Unity in Richard Wright's Eight Men
Robert Butler 151
Contents

Richard Wright Today

Too Honest for His Own Time
Arnold Rampersad 163

The Problematic Texts of Richard Wright
James W. Tuttleton 167

The Library of America Edition of Native Son
Keneth Kinnamon 173

The Library of America Edition of The Outsider
Yoshinobu Hakutani 177

Authority, Gender, and Fiction
Eugene E. Miller 181

The Invisible Woman in Wright's Rite of Passage
Robert Butler 185

Selected Bibliography 191

Index 197