PART I: CONTRIBUTED PAPERS

Images

Query Categories in a Study of Intellectual Access to Digitized Art Images
Samantha K. Hastings ............................................................................................................ 3

Comparing User-Assigned Terms with Indexer-Assigned Terms for Storage and Retrieval of Moving Images: Research Results
James M. Turner .................................................................................................................. 9

Searching and Browsing on Map Displays
Xia Lin ................................................................................................................................... 13

Libraries

Comparing Children’s Use of Browsing and Keyword Searching on the Science Library Catalog
Sandra G. Hirsh and Christine L. Borgman ............................................................................. 19

Information Retrieval or Information Morass? Implications of Library Automation and Computing Networks in Central and Eastern Europe for the Creation of a Global Information Infrastructure
Christine L. Borgman ........................................................................................................... 27

Studying the Value of Library and Information Services: A Taxonomy of Users Assessments
Paul B. Kantor and Tefko Saracevic ...................................................................................... 35

Indexing

Inferring about Classics Retrieval from a Disciplinary Bibliography: Analyzing the Paper-Medium Form of L’Année Philologique
Jeanine Williamson ............................................................................................................ 45

Indexing as Problem Solving: A Cognitive Approach to Consistency
Claire David, Luc Giroux, Suzanne Bertrand-Gastaldy, Diane Lanteigne, and Annick Bertrand .... 49

Convergent Theories: Using a Multidisciplinary Approach to Explain Indexing Results
Suzanne Bertrand-Gastaldy, Diane Lanteigne, Luc Giroux, and Claire David ......................... 56

Information Needs of End-Users

Information Needs and Uses During Internet Training
Carol A. Hert, Howard Rosenbaum, Samantha C. Skutnik, and Steven M. Backs .................. 61

Affective Elaborations of Boolean Search Instructions for Novices: Effects on Comprehension, Self-Confidence, and Error Type
Diane Nahl ............................................................................................................................. 69
Multiple Search Sessions by End-Users of Online Catalogs and CD-ROM Databases
Amanda Spink and Leslie Beatty .................................................................................. 77

Partnerships in Navigation: An Information Retrieval Research Agenda
Michael K. Buckland, Mark H. Butler, Youngin Kim, Barbara A. Norgard, and Christian Plaunt .... 84

IR Research

The Role of Linguistic Phenomena in Retrieval Performance
Deborah L. Gillaspie ........................................................................................................ 90

Search Intermediary Elicitations During Mediated Online Searching
Amanda Spink, Abby Goodrum, and David Robins .......................................................... 97

User-Defined Relevance Criteria: A Comparison of Two Studies
Carol L. Barry and Linda Schamber .................................................................................. 103

A Task-Oriented Approach to Retrieval System Evaluation
William R. Hersh, Jeffrey Pentecost, and David H. Hickam ............................................. 112

Bibliometrics

Navigating the Citation Network
Henry Small .................................................................................................................... 118

Information Epidemics and Science Collections
Albert N. Tabah ............................................................................................................. 127

Information Technology

Rhetoric of the 'REN: The Myths of the Information Superhighway
Donald O. Case ............................................................................................................. 137

Mapping and Measuring the Information Infrastructure for Planning Purposes: Preliminary Study of South Carolina
Robert V. Williams ....................................................................................................... 144

National Computer Policy Management in Singapore: Planning an Intelligent Island
Chun Wei Choo ............................................................................................................. 152

Information Seeking

A User-Based Cognitive Approach to Modeling Highly Dynamic Information Problem Situations
Linda Schamber .............................................................................................................. 157

Household Information Systems: An Integrated View
Elisabeth Davenport and Martin Higgins ........................................................................ 163

A Portrait of Potential Adopters of Information Filters
Stephen P. Gant ............................................................................................................ 167

Information Retrieval as Situated Action
Carol A. Hert ................................................................................................................. 172

Document Use During a Research Project: A Longitudinal Study
Peiling Wang and Marilyn Domas White ........................................................................ 181
Communication Technology

Cross-Cultural Comparison of Organizational Media Evaluation and Choice
Ronald E. Rice, Elizabeth More, and John D’Ambra .......................................................... 189

Culture of Collaboration: An Exploration into the Accounting Industry
Bob Travica .................................................................................................................................. 194

System Design

Knowledge Exploration in Design: Boundary Spanning Roles and Strategies
Diane H. Sonnenwald .................................................................................................................. 200

Artifacts as Theories: Convergence Through User-Centered Design
Andrew Dillon ............................................................................................................................ 208

Impact of User-Centered Design Methodology on the Design of Information Systems
William A. Sugar ....................................................................................................................... 211

Cheshire II: Design and Evaluation of a Next-Generation Online Catalog System
Ray R. Larson, Ralph Moon, Jerome McDonough, Lucy Kuntz, and Paul O’Leary ................. 215

PART II: ABSTRACTS OF SIG SESSIONS

SIG/ALP, SIG/CR and SIG/HCI

Advanced Tools for the Navigation and Use of Information Across the Internet
Moderator: Ingrid Hsieh-Yee ...................................................................................................... 229

Functional Specifications for an Advanced Toolset for the Access and Use of Information
Philip J. Smith

Internet Tools and Natural Language Processing
George H. Brett II

Using WWW Browsers for Information Exploration
Maurice Leatherbury

Designing Navigation Tools for the Internet
Robert France

SIG/ALP

Automatic Indexing of a Large Document Collection
Moderator: Jim Coble .................................................................................................................. 230

Automatic Indexing Machines: The Failure of Rule-Based Programs in Large Document
Environments
Tom Curran

SIG/ALP

Current Applied Research in Natural Language Processing
Moderator: Jim Coble .................................................................................................................. 231

A Natural Language Interface for File Management
Paul Buchheit

Shape Language Processing and Visual Feedback for Image Indexing and Retrieval
P. Bryan Heidorn
Multilingual Document Processing in Financial Crimes Law Enforcement
Patrick Jost

The Instructional Effectiveness of Natural Language Processing
Noriko Nagata

SIG/CR
Classification and Technology: New Roles for Maps of Knowledge
Moderator: Clare Beghtol

SIG/CR and SIG/SRT
End-Users' Models of Database Searching and Database Structures
Moderator: Efthimis N. Efthimiadis

Is Protocol Analysis Sufficient?
Raya Fidel

User Knowledge and Uncertainty in Online Public Access Catalog Searching
Carol A. Hert

High School Students' Use of Online and CD-ROM Databases: Competing Conceptual Structures
Delia Neuman

Children, An OPAC, and Time Marches On: How Can the Results of User-Based Research Information Design and Institutional Policy?
Paul Solomon

Metaphors and Mice: Designing Information Retrieval Systems for Children to Search Virginia Walter

SIG/ED
Convergence or Divergence in Education for the Information Professions? A Dialogue Between Educators and Consumers
Moderator: Samantha Hastings

SIG/HFIS
Theories of Information Science
Moderator: Michael Buckland

Composition Studies and the Foundations of Information Science
Birger Hjørland

Writing, Computing and Exactness
Julian Warner

The Inherent Deficiencies of a Cognitive Approach to Information Retrieval
Søren Brier

FID/II and SIG/III
Reinventing Information Services—Linking is to Business Strategies
Moderator: Irene Farkas-Conn and Irmgard Fischli

Revitalizing Information Services to Better Meet Client Initiatives
Kristin Oberst

Synchronicity Re-visited: BNR's Next Generation of Information Services
Bibi Patel
Product Strategies for Information Services
Corinne Campbell

Information Management Challenges in Transition Economies
Zdravka Pejova

Outsourcing—A New Management Tool or Just a Trend?
Irmgard Fischli

Integration of Internet Information into the Corporation
David Anderson

Management Information Warehouse Client-Server Environment
Sandra K. Tice

SIG/LAN, ALA and LITA
The Life (and Death?) of Print: A Debate
Moderator: Merri Beth Lavagnino

Debating the Position that Print is Not Dead
Walt Crawford

Debating the Position that Print is Dead
Gregory B. Newby

SIG/LAN and SIG/VIS
Overview and Update on the NSF Digital Library Initiative
Moderator: Merri Beth Lavagnino

An Electronic Environmental Library Project
Ray R. Larson

The Alexandria Project: Towards a Distributed Digital Library with Comprehensive Services for Images and Spatially Referenced Information
Larry Carver

Informedia: Integrated Speech, Image, and Language Understanding for Creation and Exploration of Digital Video Libraries
Michael L. Mauldin

Building the Interspace: Digital Library Infrastructure for a University Engineering
Community
Bruce Schatz

The University of Michigan Digital Libraries Research Proposal
Karen Drabenstott and Amy Warner

The Stanford Integrated Digital Libraries Project
Vicky Reich and Rebecca Lasher

SIG/MED
Community Health Information Networks
Moderator: Elaine Martin

Internet Interfaces to Harness Health Sciences Sources
Moderator: Nina Dougherty

Sourcerer and Apprentice: Tools for a Mosaic Based Information Sources Map
Jim Fullton
HealthWeb: Providing Selective Web Resources in the Health Sciences
James Shedlock

Issues in Adapting the World Wide Web for Clinicians
William Hersh

SIG/STI
Electronic Resources in Support of Scientific and Technical R & D
Moderator: Natalie A. Schoch

An All-Electronic, Peer-Reviewed, Scientific Journal Published as a Collaboration of Five Societies and Delivered Via the Internet
Keith L. Seitter

WWW Data Libraries Serving Oceanographer and Climate Modellers
Benno Blumenthal and William B.F. Ryan

Evaluating User Needs for a Digital Library for Engineers
Ann P. Bishop

SIG/STI
Scientific Collaboratories I & II: Technological and Sociological Issues
Moderators: Katherine W. McCain and Natalie Schoch

A Joint Venture with the Government and Commercial Sector
Roberto Rand

Distributed Data Access in the Human Genome Project
Kerryn A. Brandt

Work and Infrastructure
Susan Leigh Star and Karen Ruhleder

The Structure of Incentive
Judy Weedman

SIG/STI
Virtual Information Maps
Moderator: Albert N. Tabah

VIBE: A Visual Information Browsing Environment
Robert R. Korfhage

Bead—An Information Visualisation System
Matthew Chalmers

Part III: FOR THE RECORD

Plenary and Other Special Sessions
