MEDIEVAL FINDS FROM EXCAVATIONS IN LONDON: 5

THE MEDIEVAL HORSE AND ITS EQUIPMENT

c.1150—c.1450

edited by John Clark

with contributions by John Clark, Blanche M A Ellis, Geoff Egan, Nick Griffiths, D James Rackham, Brian Spencer and Angela Wardle

Principal illustrators:
Nigel Harriss and Susan Mitford

LONDON: HMSO
Contents

Acknowledgements viii

Conventions x

Introduction: horses and horsemen in medieval London 1
(John Clark, with contributions by Brian Spencer and D James Rackham)

Excavations and finds 1
The medieval horse and its work 4
The London Bridgewardens and their horses 11
(Brian Spencer)
London marshals and other horsemen 13
Physical remains of medieval horses 19
(D James Rackham)
The size of the medieval horse 22
Conclusions 32

The excavations 33
(Angela Wardle)

Harness fittings 43
(John Clark, Geoff Egan and Nick Griffiths)

Introduction 43
(John Clark)

Catalogue 43

Catalogue nos

Bits 1–6 43
(John Clark)

Bridle bosses 7–13 53
(Geoff Egan)

Buckles, hasps and strap hooks 14–52 55
(Geoff Egan)

Harness pendants and associated fittings 53–81 61
(Nick Griffiths)

Stirrups 82–6 71
(John Clark)
Horseshoes
(John Clark)

Introduction
The function of the horseshoe
Horseshoes before the medieval period
Shoeing practice and terminology
Medieval horseshoes from the City of London
Typology
Chronology
Size and shape

Catalogue

Spurs and spur fittings
(Blanche M A Ellis, with contributions by Geoff Egan)

Introduction
Function and fashion
London spurriers
Terminology
Chronology and development

Catalogue

Curry combs
(John Clark)

Introduction

Catalogue
Contents

Appendix: skeletal evidence of medieval horses from London sites 169
(D James Rackham)

- Physical character 169
- Pathologies 172
- Age and sex 173

Summaries 175

- The medieval horse and its equipment 175
- Le cheval et ses accessoires à l'époque médiévale 175
- Das mittelalterliche Pferd und seine Ausstattung 176

Bibliography 178