 Contents

FIGURES vii
PREFACE ix
CHAPTER ONE 1
Japanese Perceptions of Nature: Ideals and Illusions by Arne Kalland and Pamela J. Asquith CHAPTER TWO 36
The Four Seasons: One of Japanese Culture’s Most Central Concepts
by Peter Ackermann
CHAPTER THREE 54
Natural Imagery in Classical Japanese Poetry: The Equivalence of the Literal and the Figural
by Sonja Arntzen
CHAPTER FOUR 68
Bijinga and Nature: A Single Beauty
by Pilar Cabañas
CHAPTER FIVE 83
Nature Tamed: Gardens as a Microcosm of Japan’s View of the World
by Joy Hendry
CHAPTER SIX 106
Watsuji Tetsurō’s Ecological Approach: Its Philosophical Foundation
by Harumi Befu
CHAPTER SEVEN 121
The Unnatural as Ideology: Contesting Brain Death in Japan
by Margaret Lock
CHAPTER EIGHT 145
Interpretations of Nature and the Legitimation of Gender Differences: ‘Natural’ Links in the Japanese Social Field
by Nancy Rosenberger
CHAPTER NINE
Doing What Comes Naturally: Media and Marketing Constructions of Sexuality among Japanese Adolescents
by Merry I. White

CHAPTER TEN
Mount Fuji and the Cherry Blossoms: A View from Afar
by Brian Moeran and Lise Skov

CHAPTER ELEVEN
The Canonization of Nature in Japanese Culture: Machinery of the Natural in Food Modernization
by Michael Ashkenazi

CHAPTER TWELVE
Marketing Nature in Rural Japan
by Okpyo Moon

CHAPTER THIRTEEN
The Soil as Teacher: Natural Farming in a Mountain Village
by John Knight

CHAPTER FOURTEEN
Magical Thought at the Interface of Nature and Culture
by Josef A. Kyburz

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

INDEX