Joyce and the Subject of History

Edited by
Mark A. Wollaeger,
Victor Luftig, and
Robert Spoo

Ann Arbor
The University of Michigan Press
Contents

Acknowledgments vii
References to Joyce’s Works ix
Introduction 1

Part 1. Critical and Theoretical Prospects
The History of Now: Commodity Culture and Everyday Life in Joyce 13
Garry Leonard
History as Nightmare: Joyce’s Portrait to Christy Brown 27
R. Brandon Kershner
History as Text in Reverse 47
Fritz Senn
James Joyce and the Cosmopolitan Sublime 59
Joseph Valente

Part 2. Ulysses and the Subject of History
Reading Ulysses: Agency, Ideology, and the Novel 83
Mark A. Wollaeger
“Nestor” and the Nightmare: The Presence of the Great War in Ulysses 105
Robert Spoo
What Shouts in the Street: 1904, 1922, 1990–93 125
Daniel Moshenberg
Literary Tourism and Dublin’s Joyce 141
Victor Luftig
Part 3. Finnegans Wake: A Present of the Past, A History of the Future

"Fantastic Histories": Nomadology and Female Piracy in Finnegans Wake
Vicki Mahaffey

157

The Critical History of Finnegans Wake and the Finnegans Wake of Historical Criticism
Margot Norris

177

Ireland from the Outside
Cheryl Herr

195

A Bibliography of Criticism on Joyce and History
Robert Spoo

211

Contributors

241

Index

243