National Information Infrastructure Initiatives

Vision and Policy Design

edited by Brian Kahin and Ernest J. Wilson III

A Publication of the Harvard Information Infrastructure Project in Collaboration with the Global Information Infrastructure Commission

Contents

Preface ix

Acknowledgments xiii

Ernest J. Wilson III

Asia

Implementing the NII Vision: Singapore’s Experience and Future Challenges 24
Poh-Kam Wong

Back to the Future: Japan’s NII Plans 61
Joel West, Jason Dedrick, and Kenneth L. Kraemer

Korea’s National Information Infrastructure: Vision and Issues 112
Kuk-Hwan Jeong and John Leslie King

North America

The U.S. National Information Infrastructure Initiative: The Market, the Web, and the Virtual Project 150
Brian Kahin

Cultural Sovereignty, Public Participation, and Democratization of the Public Sphere: The Canadian Debate on the New Information Infrastructure 190
Marc Raboy
Developing Countries

Information Infrastructure Initiatives in Emerging Economies: The Case of India
Ben A. Petrazzini and G. Harindranath 217

Brazil: Is the World Ready for When Information Highways Cross the Amazon?
Lee McKnight and Antonio J. J. Botelho 261

National Information Infrastructure in Developing Economies
Eduardo Talero 287

Europe

Information Superhighway Policy in France: The End of High Tech Colbertism?
Thierry Vedel 307

Public Policy and the Information Superhighway: The Case of the United Kingdom
Andrew Graham 349

Multimedia: Germany’s Third Attempt to Move to an Information Society
Herbert Kubicek 387

The Information Welfare Society: An Assessment of Danish Governmental Initiatives Preparing for the Information Age
Annemarie Munk Riis 424

Beyond the Nation State: Europe and World

Information Liberalization in the European Union
Shalini Venturelli 457

European Information Infrastructure Policy Making in the Context of the Policy Capacity of the European Union and Its Member-States: Progress and Obstacles
Milda K. Hedblom and William B. Garrison, Jr. 490
Contents

Appropaches for Maximizing GII Impacts on Sustainable Development 508
Thomas R. Spacek

Will the Global Information Infrastructure Need Transnational (or Any) Governance? 532
Walter S. Baer

Regional Development and the Information Society: The IRISI Initiative as a Pilot Project of the European Union 553
Wolfgang Kleinwächter

Supplementary Materials

Materials from the Special Session on Information Infrastructures 569
OECD

Chair’s Conclusions from the G-7 Ministerial Conference on the Information Society 613

Contributors 625

Index 631