Towards a New American Nation? Redefinitions and Reconstruction

Edited by Anna Maria Martellone

SERIES EDITOR : DAVID K. ADAMS

RYBURN PUBLISHING
KEELE UNIVERSITY PRESS
Contents

Notes on Contributors 7

Foreword 11

Anna Maria Martellone, University of Florence, Italy

Part I: Crisis in Economic Growth and Political Systems

1. The Legacy of the Reagan Years 15
   David M. Kennedy, Stanford University, U.S.A.

2. From Reaganomics to Clintonomics: A Counterrevolution? 28
   Stephan G. Bierling, University of Munich, Germany

3. Challenges to the American Political System: The United States in the Post-Cold War Era 45
   Sergio Fabbrini, University of Naples, Italy

4. The End of Electoral Realignment and the Deadlock of American Democracy 59
   Stefano Luconi, University of Rome, Italy

Part II: National Identity and Multiculturalism: Processes of Inclusion/Exclusion

5. Freedom, Race and Citizenship in American History 76
   Eric Foner, Columbia University, U.S.A.

6. From Boas to Geertz: American Anthropology and the Historical Construction of Cultural Identity 92
   Alessandra Lorini, University of Pisa, Italy

7. Identity Politics, Gender Wars and the Cultural Marketplace in the United States 111
   Emory Elliott, University of California, U.S.A.

8. Real Americans: Gender and the Defense of the Multicultural Nation 126
   John Bodnar, University of Indiana, U.S.A.
9. Women and the Political Sphere: The Contemporary Debate in the United States
   Raffaella Baritono, University of Genoa, Italy

10. Psychoanalysis and Ethnic Identity in the Multiculturalism Debate
    Daria Frezza, University of Siena, Italy

Part III: Collective Memory and the Making of Public Culture

11. The Geography of Historical Memory and the Remaking of Public Culture
    Thomas Bender, New York University, U.S.A.

12. Culture, Politics and the Making of a Collective Past in Contemporary America: The View from Italy
    Ferdinando Fasce, University of Bologna, Italy

13. ‘Shoot the Right Thing’: African American Filmmakers and the American Public Discourse
    Saverio Giovacchini, New York University, U.S.A.