A NEW HISTORY OF EARLY ENGLISH DRAMA

Edited by John D. Cox
and David Scott Kastan

Foreword by Stephen J. Greenblatt

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PRESS
New York
CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS xi

FOREWORD xiii

Stephen J. Greenblatt

Introduction: Demanding History
John D. Cox and David Scott Kastan 1

1. World Pictures, Modern Periods, and the Early Stage
Margreta de Grazia 7

Part I. Early English Drama and Physical Space

2. The English Church as Theatrical Space
John M. Wasson 25

3. "A Commontry a Christmas gambold or a tumbling trick": Household Theater
Suzanne Westfall 39

4. The Universities:
   Early Staging in Cambridge
   Alan H. Nelson 59
   Early Staging in Oxford
   John R. Elliott, Jr 68

5. Streets and Markets
Anne Higgins 77
6. The Theaters
John Orrell 93

7. “Rowme” of Its Own:
Printed Drama in Early Libraries
Heidi Brayman Hackel 113

Part II. Early English Drama and Social Space

8. Theater and Religious Culture
Paul Whitfield White 133

9. Wonderfull Spectacles:
Theater and Civic Culture
Gordon Kipling 153

10. The Theater and Domestic Culture
Diana E. Henderson 173

11. Entertainments at Court
Graham Parry 195

12. The Theater and Literary Culture
Barbara A. Mowat 213

13. Theater and Popular Culture
Michael D. Bristol 231

Part III: Early English Drama and Conditions of Performance and Publication

14. Touring
Peter H. Greenfield 251

15. “Cloathes worth all the rest”:
Costumes and Properties
Jean MacIntyre and Garrett P. J. Epp 269

16. Censorship
Richard Dutton 287

17. Audiences:
Investigation, Interpretation, Invention
Ann Jennalie Cook 305

18. Rogues and Rhetoricians:
Acting Styles in Early English Drama
Peter Thomson 321
19. Personnel and Professionalization
W. R. Streitberger 337

20. Playwrighting: Authorship and Collaboration
Jeffrey Masten 357

21. The Publication of Playbooks
Peter W. M. Blayney 383

22. Patronage and the Economics of Theater
Kathleen E. McLuskie and Felicity Dunsworth 423

23. The Revision of Scripts
Eric Rasmussen 441

24. The Repertory
Roslyn L. Knutson 461

25. Plays in Manuscript
Paul Werstine 481

BIBLIOGRAPHY 499

CONTRIBUTORS 545

INDEX 549

INDEX OF PLAYS 561