Critical approaches to ageing and later life

Edited by

ANNE JAMIESON
SARAH HARPER
CHRISTINA VICTOR

Open University Press
Buckingham • Philadelphia
Contents

List of contributors ix

Introduction 1

Anne Jamieson, Sarah Harper and Christina Victor

Part I: Reflections on gerontology

1. Talking about age: the theoretical basis of social gerontology 7
   Bill Bytheway

2. Critical gerontology 16
   W. Andrew Achenbaum

3. From minorities to majorities: perspectives on culture, ethnicity and ageing in British gerontology 27
   Ken Blakemore

4. The uses of literature in the study of older people 39
   Hannah Zeilig

5. Historical research into ageing, old age and older people 49
   David G. Troyansky

6. Recalling life: analytical issues in the use of ‘memories’ 62
   Eileen Fairhurst

Part II: Conceptualizing age relations and later life

7. Inter-generational relationships: an autobiographical perspective 77
   Margot Jefferys
Contents

8 Spatiality and age relations
   Glenda Laws 90

9 Representations of old age in painting and photography
   Andrew Blaikie and Mike Hepworth 101

10 Citizenship theory and old age: from social rights to surveillance
    Paul Higgs 118

11 Illustrating care: images of care relationships with older people
    Julia Johnson and Bill Bytheway 132

12 Figuring identities: older people, medicine and time
    Joanna Latimer 143

13 Constructing later life/constructing the body: some thoughts from feminist theory
    Sarah Harper 160

Part III: Concluding analysis

14 Theory and concepts in social gerontology
    Anne Jamieson and Christina Victor 175

Index 188