INFORMATION, DEVELOPMENT AND SOCIAL INTELLIGENCE

edited by Blaise Cronin

TAYLOR GRAHAM
CONTENTS

✓ Anchoring the concept of social intelligence
  Blaise Cronin

✓ The compound eye/I: an introduction to social intelligence
  Blaise Cronin and Elisabeth Davenport

✓ What is social about social intelligence?
  Blaise Cronin

✓ Towards less deceptive intelligence
  Philippe Baumard

Governmental intelligence: its evolution and role
  Michael Herman

✓ Competitive confrontations and information strategies
  Christian Harbulot

Police intelligence co-operation in Europe: rhetoric or reality?
  Kenneth G. Robertson

✓ Techno-economic intelligence in the 1990s: a development policy perspective
  Slavo Radojevic

Techno-economic intelligence (INTELL): what's in it for developing countries?
  Julio Cubillo

The indigenous knowledge base in African development
  Paul Sturges, Kingo Mchombu and Richard Neill

Social intelligence in China
  Stanley W. Toops and Simone Andrus

Indigenous technological capacity: can social intelligence help? A Kenyan case study
  Richard A.O. Onyango

A socially intelligent Congress
  Marialyse Delano

Information and market integration in Latin America
  Blaise Cronin

✓ Evolution and social intelligence
  Angus Whyte

Hypertext publishing and the evolution of knowledge
  K. Eric Drexler
Hermeneutics and epistemology — a constructivist perspective of strategic planning and intelligence
Stefan Klein 258

Must one see without being seen?
Philippe Baumard 278

Does IBM know what business it is in?
Stevan Dedijer 288

Development and management by intelligence: Japan
Stevan Dedijer 304

Doing business with the Japanese
Metta McLeod 324

Social intelligence in real estate planning
John M. Myers 353

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS 371