Contents

Chapter 1  Why Class Matters  1
  Pat Mahony and Christine Zmroczek

Chapter 2  Class Matters, 'Race' Matters, Gender Matters  8
  Tracey Reynolds

Chapter 3  The Double-Bind of the 'Working-Class' Feminist Academic: The Success of Failure or the Failure of Success?  18
  Diane Reay

Chapter 4  Women, Education and Class: The Relationship between Class Background and Research  30
  Janet Parr

Chapter 5  Academic as Anarchist: Working-Class Lives into Middle-Class Culture  44
  Kim Clancy

Chapter 6  Something Vaguely Heretical: Communicating across Difference in the Country  53
  Karen Sayer and Gail Fisher

Chapter 7  'You’re not with your common friends now': Race and Class Evasion in 1960s London  65
  Shani D’Cruze

Chapter 8  Contested Categorizations: Auto/Biography, Narrativity and Class  78
  Bogusia Temple

Chapter 9  Missing Links: Working-Class Women of Irish Descent  87
  Meg Maguire

Chapter 10  Switching Cultures  101
  Monika Reinfelder

Chapter 11  A Class of One's Own: Women, Social Class and the Academy  109
  Louise Morley
Contents

Chapter 12
Classifying Practices: Representations, Capitals and Recognitions
Beverley Skeggs
123

Chapter 13
Northern Accent and Southern Comfort: Subjectivity and Social Class
Valerie Hey
140

Chapter 14
Interpreting Class: Auto/Biographical Imaginations and Social Change
Val Walsh
152

Chapter 15
To Celebrate and Not to Be-moan
Jo Stanley
175

Chapter 16
Finding a Voice: On Becoming a Working-Class Feminist Academic
Gerry Holloway
190

Notes on Contributors
200

Index
205