Human Development: Competencies for the Twenty-First Century

Papers from the IFLA CPERT Third International Conference on Continuing Professional Education for the Library and Information Professions

A Publication of the Continuing Professional Education Round Table (CPERT) of the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions

Edited by Patricia Layzell Ward and Darlene E. Weingand

K·G·Saur München 1997
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements .................................................................................................................. IX
Foreword ................................................................................................................................... X
Patricia Layzell Ward & Darlene E. Weingand ...........................................................................

WEDNESDAY August 27, 1997

INAUGURATION OF THE CONFERENCE

Welcome: Ole Harbo

KEYNOTE ADDRESS: Minister of Research Jytte Hilden

SESSION 1. Continuing Education Planning: Individual and Institutional

A Distance Independent/Open Learning Education Model For The Continuing Professional Education Of Librarians
Maxine K. Rochester & Ken Eustace ....................................................................................... 1

Continuing Professional Development And Flexible Information Workers: Problems And Opportunities
Anne Goulding and Evelyn Kerslake ....................................................................................... 10

Future Academic Library Skills: What Will They Be?
Steve Morgan ........................................................................................................................... 19

SESSION 2a. Models to Cope with Growing Continuing Education Needs

Hungarian CPE Efforts Intensified Through International Co-operation
Mihaly Palvokyi, Agnes Teglasi and Niels Ole Pors .................................................................. 30

Users Training Programs Developed By The Brazilian University Libraries
Maria N. O. Silva ....................................................................................................................... 40

Constructs For Investigating Lack of Persistence In Experimental Distance Education: A Study Of Health Science Librarians
Diane Tobin Johnson, MaryEllen C. Sievert, Teresa Hartman and Timothy Patrick .................. 49

SESSION 2b. Continuing Education Planning: Individual and Institutional

The Changing Nature Of Continuing Education For The Individual: Will Libraries And Librarians Continue To Play A Role In Supporting Learners?
Clive Cochrane ......................................................................................................................... 60

On The Education Of Information Resources Management Professionals At High Level In China
Peng Feizhang and Zhang Jin .................................................................................................... 67
Closing The Information Technology Gap: Typical Training Concerns In A South African University Library In The 1990's
Clare M. Walker ................................................................. 72

SESSION 3. Models to Cope With Growing Continuing Education Needs

LIS Educational Systems Within CMC (Computer Mediated Communication)
Augusta Maria Paci ........................................................... 81

Group Mentoring: A First Experience In Continuing Education
Ann Ritchie and Paul Genoni .................................................. 88

Facilitating Workplace Learning
Jana Varlejs ........................................................................ 98

THURSDAY August 28, 1997

SESSION 4a. Training the Trainer

Training Of Trainers And Professional Development: Estonian Prospective
Aira Lepik ................................................................. 105

New Times - New Possibilities
Euginia M Rossinskaya ........................................................ 114

Librarians As Change Agents In The HE Community
Kay Flatten ........................................................................ 118

SESSION 4b. Measuring Continuing Education Needs

Theory And Practice Of Law Librarianship Through Continuing Professional Education: The Nigerian Experience
Oluremi Jegede ..................................................................... 122

Continuing Education And Information Technology: A Study Of Content And Deliverables
Niels Ole Pors and Trine Schreiber ........................................... 133

Differences Between Librarians And Library Directors In Their Perception Of Continuing Professional Education
Gabriella Dotan and Irith Getz .............................................. 140

Information Technology Developments As A Factor In Determination Of Continuing Education Needs In Some Southern African Academic Libraries
Lesley M Moyo ................................................................. 151

SESSION 5. Workshops

Measuring Continuing Education Needs And Results Competency For The Twenty-First Century
Blanche Woolls .................................................................. 161
SESSION 6a. Continuing Education Planning: Individual and Institutional

Personal Professional Development: Competencies For The Solo Librarian
Sue Lacey Bryant .......................................................................................................................... 179

Growing With The Customer: Challenges To The Estonian Librarian In The 21st Century
Alli Norberg .................................................................................................................................. 189

Planning Professional Excellence In Library And Information Organisations - A South African Perspective
Fransie Terblanche ....................................................................................................................... 193

SESSION 6b. Models to Cope with Growing Continuing Education Needs

LIS Professionals In The Networked Learning Environment
Irene Wonnell .................................................................................................................................. 201

Russian System Of Continuing Education In Transition
Irina L. Klim .................................................................................................................................. 211

Continuing LIS Professional Education Through Distance Mode: Prospects For India
Uma Kanjilal ................................................................................................................................. 219

SESSION 7a. Models to Cope with Growing Continuing Education Needs

The Internet And Continuing Professional Education
Laurel A. Clyde ............................................................................................................................ 225

The Impact Of National Training Reform And The Restructuring Of Industrial Awards On Staff Development In Australian Academic And State Libraries
Angela Bridgland ......................................................................................................................... 235

Distance Education As A New Possibility For Library And Information Science Education In Estonia
Sirje Virkus ..................................................................................................................................... 249

SESSION 7b. Continuing Education Planning: Individual and Institutional

Evaluation As A Human Development For Professionals In The Twenty-First Century; A Brazilian Experience
Sueli Angelica Do Amaral ................................................................................................................ 255

An Approach To Identifying Skills Within An Information Culture: The Application Of Information Policy To Information Cultures
Michael Kristiansson and Leif Kajberg ....................................................................................... 264

Continuing Education For Croatian Librarians: Needs And Opportunities
Tatjana Aparac ............................................................................................................................. 271
SESSION 8a. Training the Trainer

The Academic Librarian And Scholarship: A Vision For The Twenty-First Century
Araxie Paula Churukian .................................................. 278

Measuring Continuing Education Needs: Identifying Transferable Skills Through Mentoring
Jane Farmer and Fiona Campbell ........................................ 284

Training The Trainer: A Perspective From The ALA / CLENE-RV
Darlene E. Weingand ...................................................... 290

SESSION 8b. User Education: The Librarian as Educator

Effectiveness Of An Academic Library As A Continuing Education Provider
Abdus Sattar Chaudhry .................................................... 306

Applying Principles For Effective Staff Development To Large Urban Public Library Systems In Canada
Ken Haycock .................................................................. 316

The New Role Of Librarians As Internet Trainers
Diann Rusch-Feja ............................................................ 324

SESSION 9. User Education: The Librarian as Educator

Information Exchange And Communication Between Researchers: The Specialised Librarian's Part In Scientific Research
Viviane Couzinet and Arlette Bouzon ................................ 334

Information Skills Teaching In The Age Of The Electronic Library In The United Kingdom
Graham Walton, Joan Day and Catherine Edwards ................ 342

Libraries As Learning Organisations
Ganga B. Dakshinamurti .................................................. 350

SESSION 10a. Continuing Education Planning: Individual and Institutional

The Higher School Of Information Service In Prague
Marcela Burilová ............................................................ 358

Continuing Education Of Information Professionals In A Changing Environment: With Special Reference To Brazil
Tania Mara Botelho .......................................................... 366

The Library And Bibliometrics
Ona Voverienė ............................................................... 370
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Organising Committee wishes to acknowledge the support of:

Emeritus Professor Elizabeth Stone for her continuing inspiration;
K.G. Saur for the publication of the proceedings which disseminate the ideas of CPD;
IFLA Headquarters staff for their friendly advice;
Danida for the support for some overseas delegates;
the membership of CPERT for their enthusiasm;
the authors of papers and presenters of workshops and poster sessions who provided the intellectual content of the conference;
and finally, but not least to the Royal School of Librarianship for providing the Secretariat and hosting the conference. Particular thanks are due to Ole Harbo, Director of the School, Niels Ole Pors, and to Lone Laurberg who handled the planning and administration effectively with a good sense of humour.