Freedom, Trauma, Continuities

Northern India and Independence

Edited by
D.A. Low
and
Howard Brasted

Studies on Contemporary South Asia No. 2
CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ................................................................. vii

Contributors ........................................................................ ix

Digging Deeper: Northern India in the 1940s ......................... 1
D. A. Low

‘August Anarchy’: The Partition Massacres in Punjab, 1947 ........ 15
Swarna Aiyar

Literature and the Human Drama of the 1947 Partition .......... 39
Ian Talbot

‘The Chief Sufferers’: Abduction of Women During the Partition of the Punjab ............................................................ 57
Andrew J. Major

From Displacement to ‘Development’:
East Punjab Countryside after Partition, 1947-67 .................... 73
Gyanesh Kudaisya

Partition, Migration and Refugees: Responses to the Arrival of Muhajirs in Sind During 1947-48 ............................................ 91
Sarah Ansari

Divided Landscapes, Fragmented Identities: East Bengal
Refugees and their Rehabilitation in India, 1947-79 ............... 105
Gyanesh Kudaisya

Remembered Villages: Representations of Hindu-Bengali
Memories in the Aftermath of the Partition .......................... 133
Dipesh Chakrabarty
The Integration of the Princely States: A ‘Bloodless Revolution’? ... 153
Ian Copland

Bihar in the 1940s: Communities, Riots and the State ...................... 175
Vinita Damodaran

Punjab and the Making of Pakistan: The Roots of a
Civil-Military State................................................................. 199
Tan Tai Yong

G. D. Birla, Big Business and India’s Partition .............................. 215
Medha Malik Kudaisya

Index ....................................................................................... 235

About the Editors ................................................................... 238