MAXINE HONG KINGSTON'S

The Woman Warrior

A CASEBOOK

Edited by Sau-ling Cynthia Wong

New York Oxford

Oxford University Press

1999
Contents

Introduction  3
SAU-LING CYNTHIA WONG

Part I  Setting Forth Issues and Debates

A Chinese Woman’s Response to
Maxine Hong Kingston’s The Woman Warrior  17
YA-JIE ZHANG

The Most Popular Book in China  23
FRANK CHIN

Autobiography as Guided Chinatown Tour?
Maxine Hong Kingston’s The Woman Warrior and the Chinese American Autobiography Controversy  29
SAU-LING CYNTHIA WONG

Part II  Gender, Genre, and “Theory”

Filiality and Woman’s Autobiographical Storytelling  57
SIDONIE SMITH
No Lost Paradise: Social Gender and Symbolic Gender in the Writings of Maxine Hong Kingston 85
LESLIE W. RABINE

Part III A Chinese American Tradition in an Era of “Multiculturalism”

The Woman Warrior versus the Chinaman Pacific: Must a Chinese American Critic Choose between Feminism and Heroism? 113
KING-KOK CHEUNG

Chinese American Women Writers:
√ The Tradition behind Maxine Hong Kingston 135
AMY LING

√ Intelligibility and Meaningfulness in Multicultural Literature in English (Excerpts) 159
REED WAY DASENBROCK

Part IV An Interview

Susan Brownmiller Talks with Maxine Hong Kingston, Author of The Woman Warrior 173

Annotated Select Bibliography 181

Bibliography 189