Contents

Preface xi
List of Illustrations xiii
Maps xvi

PART ONE
George C. Marshall

Why George Marshall? A Biographical Assessment
Mark A. Stoler 3

Marshall in China: The Colonels’ Stories
Edmund S. Wehrle 15

Marshall’s Approaches to the Mediation Effort
Wang Chen-main 21

Why Marshall’s Mission Failed
Zhang Suchu 45

PART TWO
The Americans

Marshall, the Moscow Conference, and Harriman
Edmund S. Wehrle 65

Devotion and Dissent: Albert Wedemeyer
George Marshall, and China
Keith E. Eiler 91

Henry Luce, George Marshall, and China:
The Parting of the Ways in 1946
Robert Edwin Herzstein 115

PART THREE
The Chinese

Frustration, Fortitude, and Friendship:
Chiang Kai-shek’s Reactions to Marshall’s Mission
Ramon H. Myers 149
Mao Zedong and the Marshall Mission
He Di

173

Zhou Enlai and the Marshall Mission
Zhang Baijia

201

Guomindang and CCP Policies Toward the United States During the Period of the Marshall Mediation
Niu Jun

235

The CCP's Views on the Marshall Mission:
A Historiographical Study
Yu Shen

255

PART FOUR
China's Domestic Scene

In Search of Peace in Postwar China:
The Domestic Agenda
Larry N. Shyu

275

Last Chance for Peace: Zhang Junmai (Carsun Chang) and Third-Party Mediation in the Chinese Civil War, October 1946
Roger B. Jeans

293

A Shanghai Perspective on the Marshall Mission
Mark F. Wilkinson

327

The Communist-Nationalist Political Struggle in Beijing During the Marshall Mission Period
Joseph K. S. Yick

357

PART FIVE
The Military Aspects

About Face: General Marshall's Plans for the Amalgamation of Communist and Nationalist Armies in China
Marc Gallicchio

391

Edward J. Marolda

409
PART SIX
The Soviet and Japanese Dimensions

Andrei M. Ledovsky 423

Japanese Views on China During and Immediately after the War
Shigehiro Yuasa 445

America's Japan Policy and the Defection of Chinese Liberals, 1947–1948
Thomas D. Lutze 461

PART SEVEN
The Consequences

Could the Civil War Have Been Avoided?
An Exercise in Alternatives
Odd Arne Westad 501

In Marshall's Time: Nation Building in a Transforming World
Thomas G. Paterson 515

International Mediation of Civil Wars:
China (1945–46) and Mozambique (1990–92)
Steven I. Levine 527

Appendix 1: Some Key Documents on the Marshall Mission 549
Appendix 2: Mrs. Marshall's Letters Regarding General Marshall and China 569
Appendix 3: Chronologies 593
Selected Bibliography 623
About the Contributors 629
Index 633