Ghosts

Deconstruction, Psychoanalysis, History

Edited by

Peter Buse
and
Andrew Stott
Contents

Notes on the Contributors vii
Acknowledgements ix
Introduction: a Future for Haunting
Peter Buse and Andrew Stott 1

Part I Spectrality and Theory 21
1 Spectres of Engels
Willy Maley 23
2 ‘Something Tremendous, Something Elemental’: On the Ghostly Origins of Psychoanalysis
Roger Luckhurst 50
3 Phantasmagoria: Walter Benjamin and the Poetics of Urban Modernism
Christina Britzolakis 72
4 Spectre and Impurity: History and the Transcendental in Derrida and Adorno
Nigel Mapp 92

Part II Uncanny Fictions 125
5 Anachrony and Anatopia: Spectres of Marx, Derrida and Gothic Fiction
Ruth Parkin-Gounelas 127
6 Theft, Terror, and Family Values: the Mysteries and Domesticities of Udolpho
Natalka Freeland 144
7 The Medium of Exchange
Mandy Merck 163
8 The Postcolonial Ghost Story
Ken Gelder and Jane M. Jacobs 179
Part III Spectral Culture

9 The Machine in the Ghost: Spiritualism, Technology, and the 'Direct Voice'
Steven Connor 203

10 Angels in the Architecture: the Economy of the Supernatural
Clive Bloom 226

11 The Other Side of Plato's Wall
Ralph Noyes 244

Index 263