Rethinking Victorian Culture

Edited by Juliet John
University of Salford
and
Alice Jenkins
University of Glasgow

Foreword by John Sutherland
Contents

List of Illustrations \hspace{0.5cm} ix
Acknowledgements \hspace{0.5cm} x
Notes on the Contributors \hspace{0.5cm} xi
Foreword by John Sutherland \hspace{0.5cm} xv

1 Introduction \hspace{0.5cm} 1
Juliet John and Alice Jenkins

2 From 'Non-Fiction Prose' to 'Cultural Criticism': Genre and Disciplinarity in Victorian Studies \hspace{0.5cm} 13
Stefan Collini

3 Republican versus Victorian: Radical Writing in the Later Years of the Nineteenth Century \hspace{0.5cm} 29
John Lucas

4 'The Mote Within the Eye': Dust and Victorian Vision \hspace{0.5cm} 46
Kate Flint

5 Purging Christianity of its Semitic Origins: Kingsley, Arnold and the Bible \hspace{0.5cm} 64
Stephen Prickett

6 Dickens and the Millennium \hspace{0.5cm} 81
Andrew Sanders

7 Re-Arranging the Year: the Almanac, the Day Book and the Year Book as Popular Literary Forms, 1789–1860 \hspace{0.5cm} 92
Brian Maidment

8 Tennyson and the Apostles \hspace{0.5cm} 115
John Coyle and Richard Cronin

9 Twisting the Newgate Tale: Dickens, Popular Culture and the Politics of Genre \hspace{0.5cm} 127
Juliet John
Contents

10 'More interesting than all the books, save one':
Charles Kingsley's Construction of Natural History 147
Francis O’Gorman

11 Writing the Self and Writing Science: Mary Somerville as Autobiographer 163
Alice Jenkins

12 A Taste for Change in Our Mutual Friend: Cultivation or Education? 180
Pam Morris

13 'The Mother of our Mothers': Ghostly Strategies in Women's Writing 196
Anthea Trodd

14 Actresses, Autobiography and the 1890s 209
Gail Marshall

15 Modernity and Progress in Economics and Aesthetics 223
Regenia Gagnier

Index 240