Classroom Decision-Making

Negotiation and process syllabuses in practice

Edited by

Michael P. Breen and Andrew Littlejohn
Contents

Contributors vii
Acknowledgements x

Introduction and overview

1 The significance of negotiation
   Michael P. Breen and Andrew Littlejohn 5

Part 1 Accounts of practice in primary and secondary schools 39

Overview 39

2 Negotiated evaluation in a primary ESL context
   Anne MacKay, Kaye Oates and Yvonne Haig 44

3 Negotiating assessment with secondary-school pupils
   Kari Smith 55

4 Introducing negotiation processes: an experiment with creative project work
   Ramon Ribé 63

5 ‘We do what we like’: negotiated classroom work with Hungarian children
   Marianne Nikolov 83

6 Is a negotiated syllabus feasible within a national curriculum?
   Pnina Linder 94

7 Refining negotiated classroom work in a Spanish secondary school
   Isabel Serrano-Sampedro 108
Contents

Part 2 Accounts of practice in tertiary institutions

- Overview 133
- 8 Negotiation in tertiary education: clashes with the dominant educational culture
  Stefaan Slembrouck 138
- 9 Syllabus negotiation in a school of nursing
  Elaine Martyn 150
- 10 Negotiating the syllabus: learning needs analysis through pictures
  Eddie Edmundson and Steve Fitzpatrick 163
- 11 Reality therapy: using negotiated work in a technical-writing class
  Wendy Newstetter 176
- 12 Negotiation of outcome: evaluation and revision decisions in the writing curriculum
  Margaret Sokolik 185
- 13 Learners, practitioners, teachers: diamond spotting and negotiating role boundaries
  Lucy Norris and Susan Spencer 195

Part 3 Accounts of practice in teacher education

- Overview 205
- 14 A process syllabus in a methodology course: experiences, beliefs, challenges
  Suzanne Irujo 209
- 15 Discourse, process and reflection in teacher education
  Michael McCarthy and Michael Makosch 223
- 16 Negotiation, process, content and participants’ experience in a process syllabus for ELT professionals
  Roz Ivanič 233
- 17 Negotiation as a participatory dialogue
  Kate Wolfe-Quintero 248

Conclusions

- 18 The practicalities of negotiation
  Michael P. Breen and Andrew Littlejohn 272

References 296

Index 305