Contents

INGERD E. FEY and KAREN RACINE, Introduction: National Identity Formation in an International Context, xi

I Constructing Nations after Independence and Beyond

2 FRANCISCO DE PAULA SANTANDER, Extract of a Letter to Señor Don Vicente Azuero, New York, January 19, 1832, 21

3 RODERICK J. BARMAN, Brazilians in France, 1822–1872: Doubly Outsiders, 23

5 JOHN F. CHUCHIAK IV, Intellectuals, Indians, and the Press: The Politicization of Justo Sierra O’Reilly’s Journalism and Views on the Maya while in the United States, 59

II Touring Modernity

6 RUBÉN DARÍO, The Lure of Paris, 75

7 INGRID E. FEY, Frou-Frous or Feminists? Turn-of-the-Century Paris and the Latin American Woman, 81

8 RICHARD V. MCGHEE, The Impact of Imported Sports on the Popular Culture of Nineteenth- and Early Twentieth-Century Mexico and Central America, 95

9 SANDRA M. BOSCETTO-SANDOVAL, (En)Gendering Cultural Formations: The Crossings of Amanda Labarca between Chile and the United States, 113
III Taking Sides

11 DANIELA SPENSER, Encounter of Two Revolutions: Mexican Radical Elites in Communist Russia during the 1920s, 147

13 W. JOHN GREEN, Guilt by Association: Jorge Eliécer Gaitán and the Legacy of His Studies in “Fascist” Italy, 179

14 SILVINA MONTENEGRO, Between Crusade and Revolution: Two Argentines in Civil War Spain, 193

15 CLARA PIRIZ, Marriage by Pros and Cons: Love in a Time of European Exile, 207

IV The Art of Living and Working Abroad

17 DARIEN J. DAVIS, To Be or Not to Be Brazilian? Carmen Miranda’s Quest for Fame and “Authenticity” in the United States, 233

Suggested Readings, 249

Suggested Films, 253

About the Contributors, 257