Recovering the Black Female Body

Self-Representations by African American Women

edited by

MICHAEL BENNETT
VANESSA D. DICKERSON
Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS VII
FOREWORD: ECCENTRIC BODIES IX
   CARLA L. PETERSON

Introduction 1
   MICHAEL BENNETT AND VANESSA D. DICKERSON

Part I Covering/Uncovering

Frances Ellen Watkins Sings the Body Electric 19
   MICHAEL BENNETT

"The Deeds Done in My Body": Black Feminist Theory, Performance, and the Truth about Adah Isaacs Menken 41
   DAPHNE A. BROOKS

The Flower of Black Female Sexuality in Pauline Hopkins's Winona 71
   DORRI RABUNG BEAM

Shopping to Pass, Passing to Shop: Bodily Self-Fashioning in the Fiction of Nella Larsen 97
   MEREDITH GOLDSMITH
CONTENTS

Part II Discovering

Re-locating the Black Female Subject: The Landscape of the Body in the Poems of Lucille Clifton 123
   AJUAN MARIA MANCE

Body Language: The Black Female Body and the Word in Suzan-Lori Parks's The Death of the Last Black Man in the Whole Entire World 141
   YVETTE LOUIS

Detecting Bodies: Barbara Neely's Domestic Sleuth and the Trope of the (In)visible Woman 165
   DORIS WITT

Summoning SomeBody: The Flesh Made Word in Toni Morrison's Fiction 195
   VANESSA D. DICKERSON

Part III Recovering

On Being a Fat Black Girl in a Fat-Hating Culture 219
   MARGARET K. BASS

Body and Soul: Identifying (with) the Black Lesbian Body in Cheryl Dunye's Watermelon Woman 231
   MARK WINOKUR

Pumping Iron with Resistance: Carla Dunlap's Victorious Body 253
   JACQUELINE E. BRADY

Wearing Your Race Wrong: Hair, Drama, and a Politics of Representation for African American Women at Play on a Battlefield 279
   NOLIWE ROOKS (PHOTOGRAPHS BY BILL GASKINS)

Afterword: Recovery Missions: Imaging the Body Ideals 296
   DEBORAH E. MCDOWELL

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS 319
INDEX 323