

INTERNATIONAL YEARBOOK OF LIBRARY AND
INFORMATION MANAGEMENT 2000/2001

Collection Management

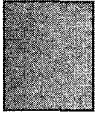

Edited by

G E Gorman

School of Communications and Information Management, Victoria University of Wellington

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION PUBLISHING
LONDON

Contents

Editorial Advisory Board	ix
About the contributors	xiii
1 Introduction	1
Part 1 People, Principles and Problems	13
2 The blurring of boundaries: digital information and its impact on collection management Daniel G Dorner	15
3 Policy: politics, power and people Frederick J Friend	45
4 Economics and collection management Stephen A Roberts	59
5 Information, technology and diversity: censorship in the 21st century Susan E Higgins	99
Part 2 Electronic Publications, Access and Acquisitions	119
6 Electronic publications Thomas W Leonhardt	121
7 Serials management in developing countries: the case of Vietnam Van Son Vu	141
8 Access to journal literature in the electronic era John M Budd	153

9	Acquisitions: the emerging electronic paradigm Liz Chapman	175
10	Library purchasing consortia: their activity and effect on the marketplace David Ball and Jo Pye	199
11	New operating principles for collecting government documents Kathy E Tezla	221
Part 3 Cooperative Collection Management and Storage Facilities		241
12	Collection management initiatives in Britain Clare Jenkins	243
13	Managing national distributed collections: reflections on the British experience Alicia Wise	267
14	Library storage facilities and services Lizanne Payne	291
Part 4 Evaluating and Weeding		307
15	Changing collections, changing evaluation G E Gorman and Ruth H Miller	309
16	Weeding library collections: conundrums and contradictions Roy Williams	339
Part 5 Preservation and Archives		363
17	Preservation management: something old, something new Charles F Thomas	365
18	Rare book collections in an electronic environment: the Shanghai Library experience Jieyin Feng	381
19	Records acquisition and appraisal in the information age Rachel Lilburn	401
Index		429