Rooted in Rock

New Adirondack Writing
1975–2000

Edited by Jim Gould

With Forewords by Rick Bass and Jacqueline F. Day
Contents

Foreword, Rick Bass xiii
Foreword, Jacqueline F. Day xix
Preface xxii
Introduction: The Case for a True Adirondack Literature xxiii

Christopher Angus
Day Trip 1
The Osgood River 5

Russell Banks
Excerpt, Mitchell Stephens, Esquire 8
Excerpt, Cloudsplitter 15

Richard Beamish
Adirondack Smithsonian 21

Joseph Bruchac
The Last Stand 24
Adali Wassak 25
Carving 27
Into the Cedar River 28
Coming Down from Hurricane Mountain 29
Fitting the Ground to Plant 30
Charles Brumley
   The Future of Adirondack Guiding 39
   Cyber Woods and Virtual Mountains 42

Neal Burdick
   A Century Wild 46

Thurston Clarke
   The 1812 Homestead 52

Michael Coffey
   The Saranac River 56
   Adirondack Sounds 58
   Shadow Limb 59
   Adirondacks, Easter Sunday 61
   Cassie Pickett’s Molasses Cookies 62

Jon Dallas
   In and Out 63
   When the Weather Turned Around 64
   She Starts from Sleep in Winter 65
   Night Skiing 66
   Standing in a Canoe 66

Michael DiNunzio
   Islands in the Sky 67

Elizabeth Folwell
   Why We Bagged It 71

Phil Gallos
   The Vanishing Cure Cottage 78
   Tyson’s 82
Contents

Alice Wolf Gilborn
   The Proving Grounds  90
   Birds  93
   Transit  93
   The Night Rockwell Kent Showed Me His Etchings  94

Amy Godine
   Jewish Peddlers  96

Jim Gould
   The Wolf at the Door  101
   A Letter to My Father in Winter  105
   Great Blue  109

Sue Halpern
   The Place of the Solitaries  114
   Solo  120
   Civic Literacy: The Johnsburg Library  127

Mary Hotaling
   A Bacillus Grows in the Adirondacks  130
   All Aboard  136

Tom Hughes
   The Seven Months of Winter  139

Paul Jamieson
   American Adam  143
   Pen and Paddle  151

Christine Jerome
   Preface, from An Adirondack Passage  158
   Excerpt, Old Forge to Inlet  163
Edward Kanze
Rite of Passage: Why the Salamanders Cross the Road 171
An Adirondack Wilderness: The West Canada Lakes 175

Maurice Kenny
Preface, from Is Summer This Bear 182
Listening for the Elders 183
Archeologist 184
Walking Woods with Dogs: After a Snow Fall 185
Garden 188

James Howard Kunstler
A New Blueprint for Adirondack Towns 189
The Man Who Would Be King 192

Anne LaBastille
Opening Camp 203
Like a Kestrel 205

Brian Mann
Ninety Miles into the Adirondacks 212

Bill McKibben
Deeper Twilight Still 218
Save the Black Flies, Sort Of 222
Home 230
Home Again 236
Forty-Six—But Who’s Counting? 239

Barbara McMartin
It’s Not a Model; It’s a Mess 242

Roger Mitchell
How It Starts 253
Reuben Sanford and John Richards, Surveyors,
Make Their Report, October 1827 254
I Do Not Know What I Did Do 256
Around Here 263

Tam Lin Neville
Glistening Slug on a Mountain Road 267
Water 268
Waking Alone in Winter, 5 A.M. 269

Joan Potter
Diners, Drugstores, and Dives 270
Twenty-Five Years to Life 273

John Quenell
How Cold Was It Last Night? 281

Paul Schaefer
The Old Log Cabin 286
A Day in the Wilderness with Zahnie 288
The Plantations 291
Preface, from Adirondack Explorations: Nature Writings of Verplanck Colvin 293

Christopher Shaw
Empty at the Heart of the World 300

Alex Shoumatoff
Camp Life 318
The Real Adirondacks 336

Natalia Rachel Singer
A Girl in Winter 347

Mason Smith
You Hear Loons Calling 351
Lone Watch in a Gold-Fobbed Forest 363