The Marshall Plan: Fifty Years After

Edited by

Martin Schain

palgrave
Contents

Acknowledgments vii
Preface ix
Contributors xi

Introduction 1
Tony Judt

Part One
The Marshall Plan and European Construction

1 From the Marshall Plan to EEC: Direct and Indirect Influences 13
Michelle Cini

2 The Marshall Plan, Britain, and European Security:
Defense Integration or Coat-tail Diplomacy? 39
Jolyon Howorth

3 Cooperation and Community in Europe: What the Marshall
Plan Proposed, NATO Disposed 61
Robert Latham

Part Two
The Others: From the Outside Looking In

4 The Marshall Plan and Czechoslovak Democracy: Elements of Interdependancy 93
Bradley F. Abrams

Part Three
The Economic Impact of the Marshall Plan

5 The Marshall Plan Fifty Years Later: Three What-Ifs
and a When 119
Roy Gardner
Contents

6 The Market and the Marshall Plan
   Barry Eichengreen
   131

7 The Marshall Plan in Economic Perspective: Goals and Accomplishments
   Imanuel Wexler
   147

8 Struggle for Survival: American Aid and Greek Reconstruction
   Stelios Zachariou
   153

Part Four
The Marshall Plan and the Organization of Political Life in Postwar Europe

9 The Marshall Plan and French Politics
   Irwin Wall
   167

10 A Single Path for European Recovery? American Business
    Debates and Conflicts over the Marshall Plan
    Jacqueline McGlade
    185

11 Embedded Liberalism in France? American Hegemony,
    the Monnet Plan, and Postwar Multilateralism
    Stewart Patrick
    205

Part Five
The Marshall Plan and Public Opinion

12 French Public Opinion and the Marshall Plan:
    the Communists and Others
    Roland Cayrol
    249

13 The Legacy of the Marshall Plan: American Public Support for Foreign Aid
    Robert Shapiro
    267

14 The Marshall Plan and Cold War Political Discourse
    James E. Cronin
    281

Index
    295