Contents

Acknowledgments xi
Abbreviations xiii

Introduction Alexa Alfer and Michael J. Noble 1

Of Prisms and Prose: Reading Paintings in A. S. Byatt's Work Michael Worton 15

A Modern "Seer Blest": The Visionary Child in The Virgin in the Garden Judith Plotz 31

Realism and Its Discontents: The Virgin in the Garden and Still Life Alexa Alfer 47

A Tower of Tongues: Babel Tower and the Art of Memory Michael J. Noble 61
In Search of Self and Self-Fulfilment: Themes and Strategies in A. S. Byatt's Early Novels

Kuno Schuhmann

“What’s love got to do with it?”: Postmodernism and Possession

Jackie Buxton

Conclusion in Possession

Jean-Louis Chevalier

Wonder-Tales Hiding a Truth: Retelling Tales in “The Djinn in the Nightingale’s Eye”

Annegret Maack

“Forever possibilities. And impossibilities, of course”: Women and Narrative in The Djinn in the Nightingale’s Eye

Jane Campbell

Writing Natural History: “Morpho Eugenia”

Sally Shuttleworth

Angels and Insects: Theory, Analogy, Metamorphosis

Michael Levenson

True Stories and the Facts in Fiction

A. S. Byatt

Select Bibliography

Index

About the Contributors