Old Books, New Learning

Essays on Medieval and Renaissance Books at Yale

EDITED BY

Robert G. Babcock & Lee Patterson

New Haven, Connecticut

THE BEINECKE RARE BOOK AND MANUSCRIPT LIBRARY

2001
CONTENTS

1 Introduction

3 The Book of Jubilees in Coptic (P.CtYBR inv. 4995)
   By Andrew Crislip, doctoral candidate in Religious Studies

9 Miskawayh's Ethics in al-Andalus?
   By David C. Reisman, doctoral candidate in Near Eastern Languages and Civilizations

21 Lancelot the Illustrator: Images of Seduction and the Seduction of Images in Yale 229
   By R. Howard Bloch, Augustus R. Street Professor of French

44 Pope Cyriacus and the Monastery of Deutz (Beinecke MS 770)
   By Elizabeth R. Larocco, doctoral candidate in the History of Art

55 Reflections on a Mystic Mirror: The Beinecke Manuscript of 'Ali Hamadānī
   By Amina M. Steinfels, doctoral candidate in Near Eastern Languages
   and Civilizations

67 The Carthusian Library at Buxheim: A Virtual Reconstruction
   By William Whobrey, Assistant Professor of Germanic Languages and Literatures

80 Beinecke MS 493 and the Survival of Hoccleve's Series
   By Lee Patterson, Frederick W. Hilles Professor of English

93 Readership and Patronage: The Manuscript History of Ludovico Lazzarelli's Fasti christianae religionis
   By Angela Fritsen, Instructor in Latin at the Episcopal School of Dallas

105 A Late Medieval Devotional Miscellany
   By Walter Cahn, Carnegie Professor of the History of Art

113 An Unattributed Kyriale from Renaissance Spain:
    A Preliminary Report on the Origin of Beinecke MS 710
   By Lorenzo Candelaria, doctoral candidate in Music

139 Philip Melanchthon: Reading the Face and the Page
   By Annabel Patterson, Karl Young Professor of English

152 Joseph Scaliger as a Reader
   By Anthony Grafton, Henry Putnam University Professor of History at Princeton University

178 Is Smoking Permissible in Islamic Law? Answers from Arabic Manuscripts in the Beinecke Collection
   By Felicitas Opwis, doctoral candidate in Near Eastern Languages
   and Civilizations

185 Index