CONTENTS

NOTES ON THE CONTRIBUTORS page vii
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS ix
TRANSLITERATION OF RUSSIAN x

Bakhtin in the sober light of day
(an introduction to the second edition)
Ken Hirschkop 1

‘Everything else depends on how this business turns out ...’: Mikhail Bakhtin’s dissertation defence as real event, as high drama and as academic comedy’
Nikolai Pan’kov 26

Not the novel: Bakhtin, poetry, truth, God
Graham Pechey 62

Upsetting the public: carnival, hysteria and women’s texts
Clair Wills 85

From phenomenology to dialogue: Max Scheler’s phenomenological tradition and Mikhail Bakhtin’s development from ‘Toward a philosophy of the act’ to his study of Dostoevsky
Brian Poole 109

Bakhtin and the reader
David Shepherd 136

Dialogic subversion: Bakhtin, the novel and Gertrude Stein
Nancy Glazener 155

Bakhtin and the history of the language
Tony Crowley 177
CONTENTS

Bodymatters: self and Other in Bakhtin, Sartre and Barthes
Ann Jefferson 201

Bakhtin, Schopenhauer, Kundera
Terry Eagleton 229

Critical work on the Bakhtin Circle: a new bibliographical essay
Carol Adlam 241

INDEX 267