John Foxe and his World

Edited by

CHRISTOPHER HIGHLEY and JOHN N. KING

Ashgate
Aldershot • Burlington USA • Singapore • Sydney
Contents

List of Figures ........................................ xi
Preface and Acknowledgments ........................ xv
Notes on Contributors ................................ xvii
Abbreviations ........................................... xix

The World of John Foxe: An Introduction 1
John N. King

John Foxe and National Consciousness 10
Patrick Collinson

Part One  Historiography

1 The End of History: Thomas Norton's "v periodes" and the Pattern of English Protestant Historiography 37
Anthony Martin

2 John Foxe and the Anglo-Saxons 54
Benedict Scott Robinson

3 A Tudor Deborah? The Coronation of Elizabeth I, Parliament, and the Problem of Female Rule 73
Dale Hoak

Part Two  History of the Book

4 Elizabeth I, Savior of Books: John Bale's Preface to the Scriptorum illustrium maioris Brytanniae ... catalogus (1559) 91
J. Christopher Warner

5 "The booke, the leafe, yea and the very sentence": Sixteenth-Century Literacy in Text and Context 102
Cynthia Wittman Zollinger

6 Little Foxes 117
David Scott Kastan
CONTENTS

Part Three  Visual Culture

7 Illustrating the Book: A Protestant Dilemma
Andrew Pettegree
133

8 Truth and History in Foxe’s Acts and Monuments
Thomas Betteridge
145

9 Transfiguring Theology: William Perkins and Calvinist Aesthetics
Lori Anne Ferrell
160

Part Four  Roman Catholicism

10 Richard Verstegan’s Book of Martyrs
Christopher Highley
183

11 “Libels and payntinges”: Elizabethan Catholics and the International Campaign of Visual Propaganda
Richard Williams
198

12 “Campion dead bites with his friends’ teeth”: Representations of an Early Modern Catholic Martyr
Scott Pilarz
216

Part Five  Women and Gender

13 Doctors, Silly Poor Women, and Rebel Whores: The Gendering of Conscience in Foxe’s Acts and Monuments
Marsha S. Robinson
235

14 Editing Anne Askew’s Examinations: John Bale, John Foxe, and Early Modern Textual Practices
Sarah E. Wall
249

15 Polemical Potency: The Witness of Word and Woodcut
Deborah Burks
263

Afterword: John Foxe in the Twenty-First Century
David Loades
277

Index
291