Contents

Preface ix

Introduction 1

Chapter One. The Construction and Deconstruction of Jewish Zionist Identity Eliezer Schweid 23

Chapter Two. Hebrew Literature and Dor Hamedinah: Portrait of a Literary Generation A. B. Yehoshua 45

Chapter Three. The Complex Fate of the Jewish American Writer Morris Dickstein 57

Chapter Four. Philip Roth’s To Jerusalem and Back H. M. Daleski 79

Chapter Five. Contemporary Israeli Literature and the Subject of Fiction: From Nationhood to the Self Gershon Shaked 95

Chapter Six. Magnified and Sanctified: Liturgy in Contemporary Jewish American Literature Hana Wirth-Nesher 115

Chapter Seven. Jazz and Jewspeech: The Anatomy of Yiddish in American Jewish Culture David G. Roskies 131
Chapter Eight. The Yiddish and the Hebrew Writers
Head for Home 147
Ruth Wisse

Chapter Nine. The Conversion of the Jews and Other Narratives of Self-Definition: Notes Toward the Writing of Jewish American Literary History; or, Adventures in Hebrew School 177
Michael P. Kramer

Chapter Ten. The African American and Israeli “Other” in the Construction of Jewish American Identity 197
Emily Miller Budick

Yitzhak Laor

Chapter Twelve. Betrayal of the Mother Tongue in the Creation of National Identity 235
Nili Rachel Scharf Gold

Chapter Thirteen. German Jewish Writers during the Decline of the Hapsburg Monarchy: Assessing the Assessment of Gershon Shaked 259
Wolfgang Iser

List of Contributors 275

Index 279