CONTENTS

Preface, 1

Cathy N. Davidson and Jessamyn Hatcher
Introduction, 7

PART 1: CANONS

Linda K. Kerber  Separate Spheres, Female Worlds, Woman's Place: The Rhetoric of Women's History, 29

Judith Fetterley  “My Sister! My Sister!”: The Rhetoric of Catharine Sedgwick’s Hope Leslie, 67

Elizabeth Renker  Herman Melville, Wife Beating, and the Written Page, 93

José F. Aranda Jr.  Contradictory Impulses: María Ampara Ruiz de Burton, Resistance Theory, and the Politics of Chicano/a Studies, 121

Marjorie Pryse  Sex, Class, and “Category Crisis”: Reading Jewett’s Transitivity, 149

PART 2: DOMESTICITY UNDONE: CASE STUDIES

Amy Kaplan  Manifest Domesticity, 183

Siobhan Somerville  Passing through the Closet in Pauline E. Hopkins’s Contending Forces, 209

You-me Park and Gayle Wald  Native Daughters in the Promised Land: Gender, Race, and the Question of Separate Spheres, 263

PART 3: PUBLIC SENTIMENT

Lauren Berlant  Poor Eliza, 291

Christopher Newfield and Melissa Solomon  “Few of Our Seeds Ever Came Up at All”: A Dialogue on Hawthorne, Delany, and the Work of Affect in Visionary Utopias, 377

Selected Bibliography, 409
Contributors, 423
Index, 427