Literature on the Move
Comparing
Diasporic Ethnicities
in Europe and the Americas

Edited by
DOMINIQUE MARÇAIS
MARK NIEMEYER
BERNARD VINCENT
CATHY WAEGNER

Universitätsverlag
C. WINTER
Heidelberg
Literature on the Move: Comparing Diasporic Ethnicities in Europe and the Americas

DOMINIQUE MARÇAIS, MARK NIEMEYER, BERNARD VINCENT, CATHY WAEGNER
Preface ................................................................. XI

Constructing the Ethnic

LISA LOWE
Immigrant Literatures: A Modern Structure of Feeling ......................... 1

ANGELIKA KÖHLER
Constructing the Ethnic: Gender, Myth, and Genre
in the Writing of Paula Gunn Allen and Ana Castillo ......................... 15

MICHAEL SOTO
The Bohemianization of America
(and the Americanization of Bohemia) ........................................ 25

Negotiating Identity

ROCÍO DAVIS
Children on the Edge: Leaving Home in Sandra Cisneros’s The House on Mango Street and Lois-Ann Yamanaka’s Blu’s Hanging ....................................... 37

BETTINA HOFMANN
Early Accounts by Children of Color Encountering White America:
Olaudah Equiano and Zitkala-Sa .............................................. 49

HEINER BUS
“Home as Found”: Homelands in German Turkish Migrant
Literature and in U.S. Ethnic and Immigrant Literatures ..................... 59
Remembering and Forgetting in the Diaspora

WOLFGANG BINDER
“Memories are made of this” - Uses of Memory in Caribbean and U.S. Latino Texts

PATRYCJA KURIATTO RENARD
Other Places: The Sites of Memory in Gloria Naylor’s Mama Day and Amy Tan’s The Hundred Secret Senses

BARBARA SEEBER
Mourners: Slaves of the Past or Immigrants to the Future?; Bharati Mukherjee’s “The Management of Grief” and Toni Morrison’s Beloved

CATHY COVELL WAEGNER
“Utopia” and Holocaust, Recovery and Desecration: African American and German Jewish Cemeteries as Cultural Texts

HEIKE RAPHAEL-HERNANDEZ
“The first animal I ever killed was a gook”: The Vietnam War and Its Legacy in African American and Native American Novels

Performing Ethnicity

RACHEL LEE
Blackface and Yellowface: Costly Performances or Coalitional Enactments?

JOHN ERNEST
Fugitive Performances: William Wells Brown’s Three Years in Europe and Harriet Martineau’s Society in America
Hybridizing the Ethnic Text

STERLING STUCKEY
Herman Melville, Paul Robeson, and Richard Wright on the Arts and African Culture................................................................. 179

PIRJO AHOKAS
Constructing Hybrid Ethnic Female Identities: Alice Walker’s Meridian and Louise Erdrich’s Love Medicine .................... 199

SAMIR DAYAL
Desire and the Politics of Multiculturalism........................................... 209

ANASTASIA STEFANIDOU
Creating a “Third Home” in Diaspora: Reading Meena Alexander and Miranda Panaretou Cambanis ......................... 225

Locating the Spaces Inbetween

ELAINE H. KIM
Trapped in the Cellar in the City of the Titans: Eurocentrism, Race, and Immigrant Identities in Asian American Literature........... 237

WILLIAM DOW
Lives on the Boundary: Portraiture and Modernism in Jean Toomer’s Cane and Sherwood Anderson’s Winesburg, Ohio ........ 245

IPING LIANG
Border Narratives: Mestiza, Mujeres, and Morrison.............................. 259
Contesting Oppression and (Post)Colonialism

LAURIE ROBERTSON-LORANT
Moby-Dick and ‘Mestizaje’: Navigating Postcolonial Borderlands with Herman Melville and Gloria Anzaldúa

ARLENE R. KEIZER
“That Cage of Obscene Birds”: Slavery and the Deployment of Sexuality

IRINA NOVIKOVA
Women in Amber and Mothers in Songs: Internments in Women’s Memories

PRADYUMNA S. CHAUHAN
Claude McKay and Salman Rushdie: Negotiating the Colonial/Postcolonial World

Correcting Political Correctness

A. ROBERT LEE
Ethnics Behaving Badly: U.S. Multicultural Narratives

STEPHEN FENDER
White Trash, Black Culture, and the Federal Writers’ Project

KARLA FC HOLLOWAY
The Consequences of the Race [for Theory]

Contributors and Editors